In surprising vote

Municipal workers ratify contract

By RIC BOHY
Of The Roman Staff

Having worked without a contract for nearly two months, members of Teamsters Local 2141 of the State, County and Municipal Workers ratified a new 2-year pact with the City of Romulus.

After ratification at Friday's session came as somewhat of a surprise to Teamsters official Walt Sacharczyk, business representative for the municipal division, who said he had gone to the meeting with the expectation of eliciting a ratification vote by mail.

"I had gone in expecting a vote by mail," he said. "But we had a quorum of members present and went with secret ballot."

THE NEW contract includes a pay raise of

'Once again we think it's an example of the workability of the bargaining process...'

40 cents across the board for hourly employees during the first year of the contract, with a 10-cent cost-of-living increase.

During the second year of the contract's effectiveness, union members will receive an additional 25 cents across-the-board increase and another 10-cent cost-of-living hike.

The contract also provides for Blue Cross insurance coverage at no cost to the employee, an additional half-day off on Good Friday and inclusion of foreman in the union—represented as a separate bargaining unit—for the first time.

"We could be truthful and say that negotiations are never easy," Sacharczyk said. "But through all the long bargaining session, both parties were prudent and made their sides heard and settlement was reached that parallels the conditions that our counterparts in surrounding communities receive."

TIM DOWNS, the city attorney representing Romulus in negotiations, said management is "very pleased" with the results of the contract talks.

"Once again we think it's an example of the workability of the bargaining process," Downs added. "I think the contract is an indicator that the current administration is willing to sit down and discuss and is solution-oriented."

"I think the union leadership, too, is solution-oriented."

Ratification of the new pact followed expiration of the Teamster local's 3-year contract which expired on June 30. Local 2141 represents 69 city employees.

New bus system awaits arrival of SEMTA rules, regulations

A proposed bus system for the City of Romulus may move a step closer to reality this week if copies of certain regulations, requirements and application forms from the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) arrive as expected in the office of the city planner.

"We have been hoping to receive the materials by sometime today," said John Chihan, director of industrial development and planning, in speaking of the proposal on Friday. "We would like to meet with SEMTA officials next week to begin to firm up plans for the bus system.

Like to meet with SEMTA officials next week to begin to firm up plans for the bus system. The planner also noted that a determination has to be made as to what type of vehicles—whether a full-sized bus or a mini-bus—will be needed.

"I WANT to meet with the mayor and Councilman Jack Trumble soon for recommendations on the program so we can determine what type of service is needed in Romulus," Chihan said.

He added that such information as population centers, necessary routes and scope of service needed must be obtained before presenting the program to SEMTA for possible grant assistance.

"None of these systems run in the black," he said. "We will need some kind of subsidy, probably a state and federal matching grant of some kind."

with the city picking up the difference. "It costs about $1 a mile to run the bus systems, and once we know how much of a grant we can get to underwrite costs, we will be able to set fare schedules."

THE CITY official added that SEMTA is programming a loop-type bus system with Wayne County General Hospital, and he has asked that Romulus be included in the route schedule under consideration.

Lived-in backyard earns award

Jaycee auxiliary cites attractive setting

By MAUREEN CAMPS
Of The Roman Staff

The back yard flower garden of Bill Gischia is not a dazzling showplace, nurtured with professional skill and investment for people to look at in detached awe.

It's a real, lived-in back yard, complete with swing set and sandbox for the kids, a picnic table and a neatly stacked wood pile nestled side-by-side with the thick lush grass and variety of blooming flowers.

Gischia of Romulus recently won first place in the parade of flowers contest sponsored by the Romulus Jaycee Auxiliary for having the most attractive yard and garden. The contest was not intended for professionals, but rather for people like Gischia who are interested in keeping their yards well tended and blooming amid the clamor of three active children and a neighborhood of lots more.

GISCHIA'S HOBBY of caring for his flowers and entire back yard makes the Romulus yard a nice place to sit outside and enjoy the breeze, have a picnic, play on the swings and run barefoot through the grass.

Three medium-sized shade trees stand in the back of the yard, transplanted locally when the Gischias first moved in. A rock garden on the side of the house and one decorating a cluster of flowers in the yard came from the collection of rocks out of the yard when the house was new and grass was put in.

The blooms in Gischia's garden include petunias, dahlias, roses, mums, marigolds, Belts of Ireland and many more. English ivy creeps up the chimney of the house.

Framing the flower beds are patio tiles of railroad ties.

GISCHIA HAS been "puttering" around in the garden since the family moved into the house five years ago. Little by little the flower beds filled up, nurtured by Gischia's avid interest and green thumb.

"Even the kids are calling me Mr. Greenjeans," he said regarding his yard work. "I'm out here all the time."

Putting around in the yard for Gischia includes watering, pulling weeds, digging up the soil to give it air, plucking dead blooms off the plants and fertilizing.

'Puttering around'

"That's my relaxation," said Gischia. "I enjoy working around in the yard."

THE PARADE OF flowers contest was brainstormed this year by a member of the Romulus Jaycee Auxiliary as a good way to encourage people to keep their yards well-groomed, said Libby McNett, chairman of the contest.

Gischia's yard was entered by a neighbor who belongs to the auxiliary.

Some people were hesitant to enter the contest, because their gardens were not professional, Mrs. McNett said. However, the whole point of the contest was to encourage non-professionals at garden care to try a hand at tending yard gardens.

Most of Gischia's flower-care methods are learned from articles on gardening in the paper. Tips on how to get rid of pesky insects, on fertilizing and other aspects of gardening are passed along to the amateur gardener in this way.

GISCHIA GETS flowers into his collection by growing them from seed, buying them or getting them from friends, or by finding blooming flowers at the site of houses about to be torn down.

Often he starts seeds growing in the house in the winter and transplants them to the garden in the spring. Flowers that cannot stand the cold weather, such as geraniums, also spend the winter in the house, sometimes blooming year round.

Besides plucking off dead blooms and tossing them onto the soil for fertilizer, care also must be taken to place flowers compatibly next to one another, Gischia said. For instance, marigolds are planted next to roses because the marigolds keep away the aphids that bug roses.

To protect roses in the winter, Gischia makes his own mulch of grass clippings and leaves to cover the bases and roots of the plants.

AFTER WORKING with the garden for more than five years, Gischia's knowledge of plant-care is an accumulation of newspaper advice, experience and tips from other gardeners.

Not to ignore the more practical aspect of gardening, Gischia also raises tomato and green pepper plants interspersed among the flowers.

Gardening is not an obsession or a job to Gischia. He does not chase children away from the yard in fear of his flowers or grass. As he said, he "putters" in a relaxing sort of way, enjoying the hobby and the fruits of it as the flowers bloom every year.

Michigan tries 'to adapt' to avoid energy loss

By DON HOENSHELL, BOB BERG, and WES THORP
The Roman Lansing Bureau
First of 6-part series

Someday in the next six years the lights will go out in Michigan.

An industry will need natural gas to heat a factory, but there will be none available.

And a business which depends for its life on communications will wait a month for the telephone system, then encounter the confusion and frustration of a multi-party line.

ELECTRICITY will be timed to segments of the day and night in homes, four hours on and four hours off, when it is needed most.

It is not an Orwellian scare, life-control by technology or by its absence. This is the terrible fact of 1980 faced by Michigan utilities which are unable to meet the full needs of even next year.

And it will happen if the utilities are not saved.

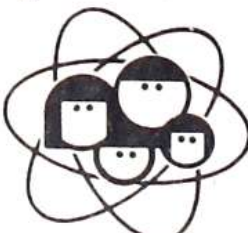

And Lansing is where the confluence of utility crisis come together before two Republicans and one Democrat, the Michigan Public Service Commission (PSC), appointed by Gov. William G. Milliken.

CHAIRMAN WILLIAM Rosenberg, a Republican and a hard-driving young lawyer, acknowledges the crises and attributes them to "financial uncertainty, the slowing of technological advance, outdated management philosophy, and the double-barreled effect of the energy crisis and inflation."

Still, he told a U.S. Senate committee in August:

"Despite the political and social furor power

and the people

which accompanies rate increases, the commissions have the duty to allow the regulated utilities a fair opportunity to earn their authorized rate of return. If this means "rate increases, and there is no other device I know of during inflationary periods, then so be it."

ROSENBERG, AS much damned as praised by the utilities and other critics in and out of government, heads up the firing-line segment of four forces that spend as much energy fighting each other as seeking solutions. They are:

—Rosenberg himself, who has doubled the size of the PSC staff since January 1973 when Milliken plucked him from the Michigan Housing Development Authority to replace Willis Ward as chairman.

—The utilities, fighting to stay alive financially while their stock plummets on the market, inflation erodes their ability to operate, and while facing a $10 billion plus need to expand to meet the demands of the next few years.

—Attorney General Frank J. Kelley and his top utility cop, Assistant Attorney General Hugh Anderson, who consistently oppose rate increases, attack utility management as incompetent, and argue that the PSC is not doing its job.

—The rate payers, a massive political force and the ultimate source of money for expansion which will meet their own demands for service. It follows that, hearing the babel of contradicting voices, they put it all down to politics-as-usual.

THERE IS A growing body of feeling that Rosenberg gets his orders from Milliken, seeking reelection to his second 4-year term this Nov. 5, and Rosenberg, in turn, controls the vote of the other Republican, Lenton G. Sculthorp. Democrat William Ralls almost is ignored.

In any case Rosenberg, the power dealing directly with utilities, has a solution—federal insurance and guarantees of investor-owned electric utility debt.

He said it would "restore the orderly flow of capital funds to utilities," reduce the cost of utility financing, and thus save the rate payers billions and help underwrite the risks of new (nuclear and other) technology.

Utility earnings are far below the PSC's authorization. Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is authorized to earn 7.9 per cent and is down to 6.54 per cent. Detroit Edison Co. and Consumers Power Co., both authorized 12.12 per cent, are down to 7.5 and 6.42 per cent.

The latest bond issue, Consumers Power Co., bore an interest rate of 11.25 per cent, a quantum jump from the past that will be forced into the bills of rate payers.

DETROIT EDISON is selling its coalpile, its trains and vehicles, and even delaying landscaping — as parts of an effort to improve its cash flow by $170 million to pay its bills through this year.

Michigan Bell, which provides telephones for five million customers, forecasts 2-party lines as its highest service, and other reversals if money is not found at reasonable rates for expansion.

And in the Upper Peninsula, the Upper Peninsula Power Co. — small by downstate standards — has seen its earnings per share drop 33 per cent from $3 last year to $1.98. It needs $71 million in capital for expansion.

The utilities are critical of Rosenberg's efforts here to monitor the business affairs of their companies and give the PSC veto power over future sites and construction, both backed by Milliken.

THEY FEEL THAT, regardless of the condition of management, politically appointed officials and their staffs in Lansing, are trying to substitute their clout for the expertise of lifetime utility executives.

"These guys (utilities) are hurting now," said Harry R. Hall, President of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce. "Until they are able to get relief, they're in deep trouble."

Rosenberg begs to differ with the utilities on the role of the PSC.

He said: "We as a state must have greater influence in expansion planning. If you get approval from the commission, then the public has input into decisions that affect their utility rates — decisions on the type of fuel used and the amount of money borrowed. "Fuel costs are 35 per cent of the cost of electricity and money (capital for expansion) is 50 per cent of the cost. You could avoid a situation like Fermi I with Detroit Edison where they, in effect, tore down a new $57 million (Edison says $54 million) plant, or like Palisades or Marysville."

DETROIT EDISON invested with others by putting $54 million into Fermi I at Monroe to test a nuclear fast-breeder process, a project now decommissioned. Consumers Power built a $155 million synthetic natural gas plant at Marysville at almost four times the original estimated cost and a $188 million nuclear electric generating plant, Palisades, which developed faults which has kept it closed for a year.

Rosenberg calls these mistakes by management, though utility executives argue the problems could not be foreseen, and he tilts with the thought that higher rates will solve the dilemma of utilities.

"But the problems are much more than just rates," he said. "There have been some bad management decisions and I have yet to see a utility manager fired for making a mistake. There have been no changes in Consumers Power because of Palisades or Marysville. These things the PSC had nothing to do with and these are the things that have the utilities in trouble."

Still the financial giants in New York describe Michigan as a bad place to invest in utilities. A Rothchild Securities Corporation report in July said that "the regulatory environment appears unfriendly in Michigan."

MILLIKEN SAID, in answer to questions submitted in writing, that he does not discuss specific pending rate cases or the performance of individual PSC members. He said: "I consider that inappropriate. What discussions I have had have been general and philosophical in nature, saying privately what I have said publicly, that our obligation is to provide the most service at the least cost, while seeing that utilities have a sufficient return on their capital investment." Milliken said he asked President Gerald R. Ford to consider Rosenberg's proposal for federal guarantees. "He (Ford) indicated that he was sensitive to the problem and to the fact that failure to expand (utilities) could directly affect jobs," Milliken said.

MILLIKEN ADDED THAT he does not discuss cases with Rosenberg, adding that "in no way can this be a political game." Rosenberg-watchers claim that he is tuned in politically and no special guidance from Milliken is necessary.

Others describe Rosenberg as politically out of touch based on hints Detroit Edison and Consumers Power may yet some emergency rate relief in advance of the Nov. 5 election. They recall 1970 when Blue Cross and Blue Shield got zero-zero on rate petitions before the state insurance bureau before the election.

There also are conflicting accounts of Rosenberg's role on the commission. Both he and Sculthorp deny that Sculthorp's vote is automatically with Rosenberg.

"It's foolish to say that Len Sculthorp isn't his own man," Rosenberg said. "He's a very intelligent guy and we work together. We adopt some of his ideas and some of my ideas, though to be honest, most things we work on are staff ideas and don't come from a member."

THAT LENDS substance to the charge that Rosenberg has built a wall around Democrat Ralls. Milliken says he doesn't know anything about Ralls' statement attributed to a governor's office staffer that Rosenberg was sent to the PSC to "neutralize you (Ralls)."

Rosenberg said that he and Sculthorp form a majority for the tough decisions and are joined by Ralls on the popular decisions. They were unanimous on cases involving Michigan Bell and Consumers Power.

"Bill (Ralls) moved out," Rosenberg said. "He tried to vacate his prior votes and started attacking the commission. I think Bill Ralls has attempted to politicize it. The hard decisions no longer have his vote on them." Rosenberg said Milliken has never asked him to be political. If he were tempted, Rosenberg said, "the obvious thing to do would be to wait until after the election, but that would not have been in the public interest because they (utilities) need the money."

SCULTHORP, the veteran on the PSC, traced the troubles of the utilities from his appointment by Former Governor George Romney in January 1969 — the decline from plenty to crisis for the companies.

"Nationally, utilities are sick industries," Sculthorp said. "It isn't just in Michigan. We on the commission have no control over the cost of money. The high interest rates are killing these companies...."

"They can't put off construction, either. They have to build now because their lead time is so long — six to 10 years. Utilities need help from the federal government. Federal guarantees of loans would lower interest rates."

"There are so many problems that giving a rate increase is like a blood transfusion. It doesn't deal with the basic problems and have to get at those."

SCULTHORP, a quiet, low-profile man, agreed with Milliken that the PSC must look at the facts and figures, not politics.

But he developed a thought fascinating to the utilities, that "the average person confuses the public interest with low rates."

"The public interest is broader than just rates," he said. "It is having utilities that are healthy and can serve the ratepayer."

"I don't look at things as a Republican. I'm not active in partisan politics any more. I don't think it would be proper. The Governor has never tried to influence my decision on any case. That would be improper."

THAT LEAVES Ralls in more or less agreement with Kelley and Anderson. He said the top priority is the reform of the pricing structure and encouraging the use of electricity when plants are operating below capacity.

Raising rates won't solve the basic problems, Ralls said, such as the cost of money, inflation, the costs of operation and the rising costs of fuel. On the PSC, itself, he said:

"I think both the stockholders and ratepayers have been victimized by the commission. We can be criticized for not reforming the rate structure, though the Michigan commission has made changes that are leaders in the nation."

Ralls said the statement from Milliken's office that Rosenberg was being sent to the PSC to "neutralize you" was "a chilling comment. I was glad to see him come, but taking all of the power to make administrative decisions by him changed the commission."

"THE RESULT was to concentrate authority and power rather than to share it. The new layer of staff... is responsive only to the chairman. The chairman... is the administrative head, not the czar."

Ralls said he has never been pressured by Milliken and has no evidence that Rosenberg and Sculthorp have been approached.

He said he would prefer Sculthorp to be more independent of Rosenberg, "but it would be grossly unfair to say he has given Rosenberg his proxy."

Kelley's involvement in the utility field has been accompanied by Anderson's critical expertise, assisted by another staffer, Roderick Coy. They recently kept a Michigan Bell witness on the stand for seven days.

"I WANT THEM (utilities) to be healthy and have a fair and reasonable profit, but I also want them to be what they are — a 'public utility,'" Kelley said.

Legally, that means that they are a business which supplies a service which the state feels is so fundamental that the state will grant a utility an absolute monopoly free of competition with a guaranteed fair return."

Kelley said all industries, as well as utilities, are suffering. He said he didn't make the decisions of management that have troubled Detroit Edison and Consumers Power and which have brought an investigation by the Atomic Energy Commission, in the case of Consumers.

Anderson and Kelley feel the PSC could be doing a better job. Anderson commented on Rosenberg:

"THE PSC IS doing worse under Rosenberg than it did under Willis Ward. The only difference between the two is that Ward generally believed rate cases should be decided on the record before the commission, which is what the law requires. "Rosenberg has said he considers the hearings and records irrelevant, that he makes up his mind in talks with company officials, Wall Street types, and so forth."

"When Ward was here, Len Sculthorp was independent, a swing man between Ward and Bill Ralls. Now in each and every instance he (Sculthorp) supports Rosenberg. There is no evidence of hammering out a compromise."

While the in-fighting and the blame-fixing continue, the utilities are in trouble and the solutions still are elusive though some hints of progress can be seen.

EVEN WILLIAM A. Amerman, financial officer for the state treasury, said the State Employees Retirement Fund has sharply curtailed its purchases of utility stocks. "None of the utilities have looked good to us as a stock investment," he said. "Over the last year or so we have stopped buying utility stock, with maybe a few exceptions. "We pulled out of utilities last fall before they took their last roller coaster ride." Utilities desperately need answers.

Romulus schools adopt plans for building usage

The Romulus Board of Education unanimously has adopted new building use policies in the rental of school property and use of school district's buildings by outside agencies.

The building use policies, under review for some weeks by school officials, were presented by Romulus School Supt. Robert L. McConeghy and staff at an Aug. 26 meeting of the board of education.

Effective immediately, the rental of school property and use of buildings by outside agencies shall conform to school building use policies as approved by the school board.

THE RECEIPTS from the rental of school property is to be deposited in the school district's general fund and the use of school equipment of premises is discouraged by the board.

McConeghy said the board of education recognizes that the schools belong to citizens of the school district and should be available for use consistent with the general school laws of the State of Michigan and administrative regulations approved by the board of education.

Authorization for the school board to prescribe rules and regulations and rental fees for use of building also is included in the general school laws of the state.

Under the approved policy, applicants must satisfy the school board or its authorized representative that:

- they are responsible persons and represent responsible organizations;
- they will guarantee orderly behavior;
- they will underwrite any damages resulting from the applicant's use of school properties;
- their program is of a nature suitable for presentation in a public school;
- the activity is lawful and in conformity with the regulations of the school board.

RESPONSIBILITY for use of facilities and observance of regulations rest upon the applicants.

Custodians or other school board representatives on duty in the schools at the time are required to report all irregularities to their respective principals, the new policy states and adds that all school facilities are denied for Sunday activities.

The building use policies also provide procedures on filing applications for use of school buildings and sets up for different categories in the grouping of outside agencies wishing to make use of school buildings.

All categories shall be required to pay, in addition to regular charges, the cost of custodial, security, cafeteria, stage and technical personnel, when those services are not normally scheduled in that facility.

Fees increase on instruments

Rental fees on music instruments for junior high school band in the Romulus Junior High School will be taking an upturn this fall, according to the junior high band director, Richard Kruse.

Parents should be prepared to pay $10 per month for an insured instrument instead of the $7 charged last year.

A 3-month payment of $31.20 is necessary to pick up the instrument.

"THERE ARE many parents who find themselves at the end of their budgets with buying school clothes at this time of the year," he said. "And I wanted to warn them early."

The $10 month fee applies to clarinets, flutes, coronets, trombones and drums.

An alto saxophone will be $15 per month. Musical instruments can be picked up Sept. 18 in the school gymnasium after tests have been given to children to determine their aptitudes and abilities, Kruse said.

THE TOTAL PRICE on musical instruments is up approximately four per cent this year, he added.

The instruments can be purchased with the rental payments applying to the cost.

Kruse said parents should not go to music stores to buy instruments until the school tests are complete. The testing program is essential to good music teaching, he added.

Letters will be sent out on the first day of school advising parents of the price increases.

Pre-trial exam set in alleged murder

Pre-trial examination on a charge of first degree murder brought against three men in the shooting death of a 19-year-old Westland woman last week is scheduled today before 34th District Court Judge James B. Stone.

Randolph R. Young, 26, of 5740 Farnum, Romulus; Major J. Smith, 27, of Inkster; and Ronald Moore, 28, of Detroit, have been accused of murdering Anita L. Bauman, in a Romulus apartment on Aug. 26.

They were arraigned on the charge before Judge Stone later that same day.

A companion of the victim, Kosnesko Foster of Belleville, was hospitalized for gunshot wounds suffered at the time of Miss Bauman's death.

The three suspects have been held without bond in Wayne County Jail since their arrest and subsequent arraignment.

State approves paving bonds

Highway fund bonds, in the amount of $1,515,000 to be used in financing major road improvements in the City of Romulus, have been approved for sale by the Michigan State Municipal Finance Commission.

State Attorney General

Frank J. Kelley, chairman of the commission, said the bond sale will be used to finance part of the city's proposed $2 million road program, with the city itself paying the remaining $500,000 needed for the project.

"These bonds are payable in irrevocable pledge of state-collected taxes returned to the city during each year in amounts sufficient to pay the debt service on these bonds when due," Kelley said.

Attorney and consultant fees totaling $9,655 also must be paid from funds collected through the bond sale.

The Romulus paving program will begin in the fall, concentrating on improvement of gravel roads, as well as repairs of roads that were paved improperly during the city's spring paving project, according to a Romulus Department of Public Works official, Jim Radford.

John Chihan, city planner and industrial coordinator for Romulus, said the construction contract for the project will be awarded by the city immediately following the sale of bonds.

Federal court hears request stopping runway expansion

A defense motion to dismiss an injunction suit, aimed at preventing a runway expansion program at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, will be heard in U.S. District Court in Detroit on Monday.

The motion, filed in behalf of Wayne County and the county road commission by the

Washington, D.C. law firm of Hogan and Hartson, will be heard by U.S. District Court Judge Cornelia G. Kennedy. The hearing follows two previous postponements which delayed the examination date from Aug. 12 to Aug. 26, then finally to Monday's scheduled session.

The motion to dismiss, filed on July 24 in the first hearing on the suit brought against the county by the City of Romulus and other plaintiffs, was based on a defense contention that one governmental agency cannot sue another, that is, the city cannot sue the county.

Another defense claim was that the plaintiffs' contention that additional airport traffic would further increase noise damage in surrounding communities is not based in fact.

Following the first hearing, airport officials were told that although construction could be continued on the runway project, it would have to be handled "at its own peril."

"That is to say that the airport or county cannot come back at a later hearing and say, 'Look at all this construction that we already have done' as part of its defense," said one district court official.

At that time, Clayton Foor, legal advisor for the county, said he presumed the road commission, which oversees operation of the airport, would continue in its construction plans, despite the ongoing court action.

Administrators greet students

Students attending Romulus Senior High School and the Romulus Elementary School were greeted by two new administrative staff members when classes resumed.

A new assistant principal at the high school and a new principal at the elementary school were appointed, according to James M. Garfield, assistant superintendent in charge of personnel.

Samuel E. Holloway, 43, of Ann Arbor, is the new assistant principal at Romulus Senior High School. He succeeds Georgia Badgett, who is dean of students counseling.

RICHARD A. GOODE, 40, of Southfield, has been named principal of Romulus Elementary School. He succeeds Margaret Bird, who recently retired after serving more than 12 years as the school's principal.

Holloway holds bachelor and master of arts degrees from Eastern Michigan University. He has 31 hours beyond his master's degree in school administration.

Married, he and his wife, Janet, are the parents of four children.

He has had teaching assignments in the South Lyon, Community Schools. Holloway leaves a position of teacher-consultant at the Ypsilanti High School where he was employed in various teaching assignments since 1968.

Goode, who is single, leaves the principal's post at the Hartland Elementary School.

HE IS A graduate of Royal Oak Dondro High School, Highland Park Community College and Wayne State University where he obtained his bachelor of science degree in education. He also graduated from the University of Michigan where he earned a master of arts degree in elementary administration and supervision.

Kennedy should not accept nomination

Enterprise-Roman Washington Bureau

The best thing that could happen to the Democratic Party right now would be for its office holders or would-be office holders to wake up tomorrow or the next day and read something like the following over their cups of breakfast coffee:

"Sen. Edward Kennedy (D-Mass.) yesterday announced that he would under no circumstances accept the nomination of his party for the Presidency in 1976."

It doesn't matter how the rest of this imaginary newspaper story goes because it doesn't matter what reasons Kennedy gives for not seeking the nomination and for announcing in advance that he would decline it if it is offered.

WHATEVER REASONS he gives could keep his options open for 1980 when he will be 48 years old, or for 1984 or 1988. By that time maybe Democrats will be thinking that Kennedy is what they need.

But right now what Democrats are thinking is that Kennedy is what they are going to get and, so long as they think this, the Democratic Party — and the nation, too — is stuck with two problems.

*But so long as Kennedy is in the race,
Republicans will be saying 'Chappaquiddick...'*

Problem one is that no other Democratic candidate will be able to get a campaign going, not only in terms of raising early money and commitments but in terms of convincing people that he represents a real choice and is not just a groundhog sticking his head out to measure Kennedy's shadow.

"If Sen. Kennedy wants the nomination, he will get it."

THAT WAS THE tribute which Sen. Henry Jackson (D-Wash.) paid to Kennedy's popularity. Kennedy's name and Kennedy's ability. I have been unable to find a single Democratic office holder on Capitol Hill who disagrees. What this means is that Kennedy is keeping everybody else from getting a start, and when I say everybody else I do not mean only Sen. Jackson or Sen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota who have mentioned themselves as possible candidates.

The recent televised hearings of the House Judiciary Committee showed the country that there were men in the Congress — one thinks of George Danielson of California and James Mann of South Carolina — whose abilities to reason logically and persuasively and to marshal the English language to their thought exceeded that of most recent occupants of the White House.

And if previously unknown congressmen are so good, why not have a look at the state capitals and at those who are trying to get there?

TWO YEARS BEFORE the Democratic convention of 1952, Adlai Stevenson was a candidate for governor of Illinois.

But as of now, it appears that Democrats are not going to get that look. For so long as Edward Kennedy is center stage, all others are cast as bit players, ready to walk on carrying a spear when Kennedy utters the cue.

The second result of the "it will be Kennedy if he wants it" syndrome is that the problems which confront the nation will not be discussed or argued because everybody's mind will be on Chappaquiddick. This may not be logical but it will be so.

Two years from now Gerald Ford will have a record, and the job of the Democrats will be to attack that record.

BUT SO LONG as Kennedy is in the race, Republicans will be saying "Chappaquiddick," and Democrats will be trying to talk about inflation and recession and defense budgets and thinking Chappaquiddick all the while.

This already is happening and it will continue to happen until that imaginary newspaper story becomes real.

Teen-agers aid family after the tragic death

To the Editor: Tragedy struck Suburban Estates Mobile Home Park on Aug. 19 at 6 a.m. A mobile home was destroyed by fire and 15-year-old Randy Palmer died.

The teen-agers living in the park and their friends rallied to the aid of the Palmer family. They went door-to-door and collected money to help tide the family over during this sorrowful period.

Much has been said and written about the transgressions of youth but we believe that these young people deserve praise for their thoughtfulness.

They praise the police

To the Editor: Recently we needed the assistance of a law enforcement agency. We called the Van Buren Township Police Department and an officer, George Montgomery, responded.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for Officer Montgomery's complete cooperation, assistance and courtesy.

Residents in Van Buren Township can rest easy knowing that their police department is ever on the alert.

If help is needed, we urge residents to a call 699-2002 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and after 5 p.m. call the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

We are sure that the response will be as quick and efficient.

Industries make profit But not as much as it looks

By ARCH BOOTH

President U.S. Chamber of Commerce

Many industries have been racking up strong profits gains recently, a situation that looks good to the stockholders and bad to the anti-business crowd.

But the stockholders actually have little reason to rejoice: Experts are concluding that many of the so-called profits aren't what they appear to be.

How's that again?

LET'S SAY THAT you are a manufacturer of widgets. Because of inflation, the cost of making a widget increases from $1 per widget to $1.10 per widget. Since you had been selling them for $1.05 apiece, you must increase the selling price to reflect the new cost. So you raise the selling price to $1.15.

At the moment you raised your selling price, you had 100,000 widgets in the warehouse, virtually all of them made at the older, $1-per-widget cost. But now they are worth $1.15 in the marketplace, rather than $1.05. That is, they are worth 10 cents apiece more.

By the stroke of a pen, your inventory has increased in value some $10,000 (10 cents x 100,000 widgets). This is your "inventory profit."

Sounds like a great way to make money, doesn't it? But wait a minute. Has your company really become more profitable? Can you expect to make such a profit next year? No. It's a 1-shot deal.

STILL, IT'S BETTER to have the money than not to have it. But can you treat it as you would "real" profit? Can you use it to expand your business? Can you distribute it to the stockholders?

Again, the answer to both these questions is no, unless you plan to go out of business.

That $10,000 windfall you seem to have earned is in fact already committed. You must keep restocking your inventory as it is used up. And you know that new additions to that inventory are going to cost you more.

So if you want to stay in business, the $10,000 is going to be put back into inventory. What's left of it, anyway — because under some circumstances, it's still "profit" to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), and subject to the 48 per cent corporate income tax.

SUCH IS THE process by which a paper profit turns from an apparent asset into an actual liability. By the time IRS gets through, a business may discover that it has paid out for taxes what really amounts to essential working capital.

And if the managers aren't sharp enough to recognize the difference between real profit and inventory profit — if they try to use the paper profits the same way they would use real profit — then the business will be even more strapped for cash, perhaps seriously so.

What's "real" profit? Real profit is the return on investment derived from the real value created by the manufacturing or service process, not the "increase" that results from inflation.

The subject is complicated in actual practice. Differing accounting methods can change the way inventory profits are valued, and the nature of the business itself will determine whether the paper profits have a big or a relatively small impact.

But however they're measured, these phantom profits are there, creating a false impression in the minds of managers and the public alike. It's one more illustration of the fact that inflation is taking its toll of business as well as the consumer.

President developing 'mushy liberal streak'

By TOM OCHILTREE
Enterprise-Roman
Washington Bureau

Neanderthal men of the Republican right are beginning to mutter that President Ford has developed a "mushy liberal streak" since he moved into the Oval Office of the White House.

They can't reconcile the image Ford is projecting with the Orthodox Conservative voting record he compiled in a quarter of a century of service as a congressman.

Muted sounds of alarm have come largely from some of the survivors from Sen. Barry Goldwater's disastrous 1964 presidential campaign and from advocates of the grand sounding "Republican Southern strategy."

THEY CHOKE over pictures in the paper showing Ford in buddy-buddy poses with national labor leaders or engaged in smiling discussions with member of the Congressional Black Caucus.

All this goes to show the Neanderthals were not listening when Gerald Ford, upon beginning his administration, pointed out that he was determined to be President of all the people and as such he would have to take a broader view of many national problems than he did when he was the Republican congressman from Grand Rapids.

Three things in particular have provoked concern among conservative Republicans. They are Ford's selection of Nelson Rockefeller as the new vice-president, the President's change of attitude on the Rhodesian chrome ore issue and his support of some sort of amnesty for Vietnam-era draft dodgers and deserters.

Of these the Rockefeller nomination is the most important. If confirmed by Congress, the former New York governor can bring the Ford administration some great advantages.

SINCE THERE is a certain amount of show biz in all American politics, the aura surrounding Rockefeller coupled with Ford's own frankness could convince the young that this is a "withit" administration deserving the support of the now generation.

During his years as New York's governor, Rockefeller also built up a strong personal following with organized labor and with blacks. The Republicans are going to have to get votes from these elements of the population if they hope to escape from the status of being a perpetual minority party.

Early public opinion polls show that Ford has gotten off to the sort of start that pleases independents and even many Democrats. That constitutes yet another sign that the base of the Republican Party can be widened if the old "die hards" can be convinced that the year 1893 is never coming back again.

Furthermore, if anyone can come up with a workable way to their inflation, Rockefeller an assignment in that area after the economic summit conference the President is convening in September.

ROCKEFELLER, however, is vulnerable on one emotional issue — abortion — as his confirmation hearings before house and senate committees are expected to reveal.

Anti-abortion "right to life" groups have blamed Rockefeller for the fact that New York State enacted the first of the so-called "liberal" abortion laws.

John G. Tarrant General Manager.

They became particularly angry when two years ago Rockefeller vetoed a bill which would have ended easy abortion in the state.

Northern Republicans generally assume Rockefeller has shed some of his liberal orientation, but that is not the case down south. People trying to build solid foundations for the GOP in

*Rockefeller,
however, is vulnerable on one emotional issue...*

Dixie are being told that Rockefeller is a handicap when it comes to trying to convince lifelong Democrats to shift over to the Republican standard.

The Rhodesian chrome ore issue also stuns many conservative Republicans. They cannot understand why Ford indicated support for pending legislation which would prohibit American purchases of chrome from Rhodesia, a land locked African country governed by its white minority.

SUCH A STAND would put the United States in compliance with a U.N. embargo slapped on Rhodesia, but it also would make American industry dependent on obtaining chromium supplies from the Soviet Union.

In 1971 Ford, then House minority leader, supported the original measure which allowed the United States to ignore the embargo on Rhodesian chromium. Now he has reversed his position.

Economically, this issue is said to be relatively unimportant but it has gotten mixed up with emotional attitudes about race and Communism.

In many ways the Vietnam Amnesty issue may turn out to be the hottest potato of all. Many Republican candidates running for Congress this fall wonder why Ford had to bring up the subject. In their view either side they take on the conditional amnesty issue will cost them votes.

YET, IN THE next breath, political observers concede that Ford "showed the sort of leadership guts a President should have" by raising such a controversial issue before such an unsympathetic audience as the Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting recently in Chicago.

"If you are going to build up a following you have to exhibit leadership," one GOP source said. "And what Ford did in Chicago was leadership spelled with a capital L."

"At last-something I can feel comfortable in!"

Homeowners to be surrounded by noise

Airport study eyes new expansion by 1980s

If Romulus' southernmost residents feel they have a gripe against alleged noise pollution from Detroit Metropolitan Airport now, their problem may get worse.

As soon as 1980, Wayne County Road Commissioner (WCRC) officials are expected to embark on another major expansion project, but it won't just be another new runway.

A south terminal using Eureka Road as its main vehicular access is in the works and is anticipated for completion sometime in the 1980s, according to an airport master plan published in June 1972, by the WCRC, which operates the airport.

ACCORDING TO THE master plan, the present passenger terminal facilities cannot be expanded efficiently to meet future airline requirements much beyond 1980.

Even with considerable modification of the concourses and baggage areas, the number of larger sized aircraft that can be accommodated will be limited," the report said.

Furthermore, the axial roadway system planned by the WCRC will extend longitudinally through the airport providing vehicular access from Eureka Road from the south as well as from I-94 in the north.

The WCRC said the new roadway will make possible the development of approximately 230 acres of unused land in the southerly sector of the airport for new passenger terminal facilities.

THE REPORT ALSO cited the proposed terminal site "as of sufficient size to construct passenger terminal facilities that will satisfy requirements well beyond the 20-year planning period."

And perhaps most crucial to near by homeowners, the reports said the primary users of the terminal will be "wide-bodied jets."

The homeowners currently raising a fight against a runway expansion program would be enveloped by the activity stemming from a new terminal along Eureka Road.

Eureka is the road onto which the heavily-populated Oakbrooke Subdivision empties, and residents fear the traffic congestion that could result from a new terminal in the area.

The WCRC only recently completed an international terminal on the northern edge of the airport.

WHEN COMPLETED THE south terminal complex will be comprised of two similar connected unit terminals, the master plan stated. Each terminal will have three concourses, and in the ultimate terminal configuration, 60 large jets can be accommodated at one time.

In addition, by 1990 over 15,000 parking spaces will be needed at the south terminal complex, and a hotel may also be built in the vicinity.

Also an interchange will provide vehicular access from the axial road (Eureka) to the south terminal complex, the report said.

WAITING THEIR TURN — Two young 7-year-olds manage to stifle their hunger pains as they patiently waited to move down the food line at a recent picnic, staged for youngsters taking part in the Romulus Parks

Van Buren to hire four with CETA funding

Unemployment in Van Buren Township soon will be relieved somewhat in the expenditure by township officials of recently allotted Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) funds.

The CETA program which begins this month was designed to provide federal areas with jobless rates at 6.4 per cent during a 3-month period.

Van Buren Township G. Elton Gollwitzer said the township's share of CETA funds in the amount of $32,711 will be used in the employment of people for the general repairs in the township from the painting of fire hydrants to the cleaning of drains.

The supervisor said applicants, seeking township employment, should contact the Michigan Employment Security Commission at 34528 Sims St., Wayne, as required under CETA.

The township will fill four jobs with the funds, including three laborers and one clerical employee.

Fain-Rider vows solemnized

In an August 24 ceremony at Zion Missionary Church in Belleville, Robbin M. Rider exchanged wedding vows with R. David Fain. The Belleville couple was united in marriage by The Rev. David Brown before 50 relatives and close friends.

For the 6 p.m. candlelight service the altar was adorned with two baskets of fugi mums, gladiolas and greens. Mrs. James Southward of Belleville was organist.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall L. Rider of 323 Church St., Belleville, Robbin was escorted to the altar by her father. For her wedding day she chose an empire-mode gown styled with a scoop neck and long sleeves on a lace bodice. More of the lace formed a pattern on the skirt which terminated in a long ruffled train.

SEED PEARLS accented the high Camelot cap which held the bride's chapel-length veil and cascading carnations centered with a white orchid corsage completed her bridal finery.

As honor attendant at her brother's wedding, Wanda Fain donned a pale yellow gown fashioned with a high-rise waistline and Mandarin collar. Her picture hat was in matching yellow and she held a nosegay of yellow-tipped carnations on broad green leaves.

Appearing in rainbow gowns of pink, green and blue and white picture hats were the three bridesmaids, Mrs. Gary Holt of Belleville, the bridegroom's cousin; and Karen Fain and Renee Rider, sisters of the bride, who served in a junior capacity.

Susan Matthews, the seven-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Matthews of Belleville, was flowergirl. Her little white frock was similar to the bride's dress and her rainbow-colored flowers were arranged in a white wicker basket.

CARRYING OUT the role of ringbearer was five-year old Chad Rider, son of the George Riders of Plymouth.

The bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fain of 48646 Sully Dr., Belleville, asked Jeffrey Lucas of Belleville, to be best man. Groomsman were Gary Holt, the bridegroom's cousin; James Bentley and the junior usher, Richard Fain, the bridegroom's brother, all of Belleville.

Approximately 100 guests gathered at Ford Local U.A.W. Hall, Ypsilanti, for the reception which followed. The bride's mother received in a formal gown of pastel yellow and green in a floral print worn with a long matching coat. The bridegroom's mother chose to wear a brown and white street-length frock and white accessories. Both were honored with corsages of roses and carnations.

Since returning from their honeymoon in Northern Michigan, the newlyweds have made their home at 109 Village Green Apartments in Belleville.

A 1974 Belleville High School graduate, the new Mrs. Fain is employed by Dr. Reza F. Mafi, M.D. of Belleville. Her husband, a foreman with Van Buren Township, is a 1971 Belleville High alumnus.

The rehearsal party took place at the home of the bride's parents.

READ-A-LOTTERY WINNERS — Each time a child visited the Belleville Library and took out books between July 15 and Aug. 15, he or she was given a lottery ticket which was placed in a glass barrel. On Aug. 16 the tickets were divided into three groups: pre-school through third grade; fourth through sixth grades and seventh through ninth. From each division a ticket was drawn and the winners, presented their awards (books, of course) from head librarian, Helen McClatchey were (from left) Jennifer Adams, three, of 46120 Hull Rd., Belleville; Amy Bracken, 13, of 49840 Bog Rd., Belleville; and Glenda Hall, 10, of 17981 Sumpter Rd., Belleville. The participation, Mrs. McClatchey reports, was excellent.

'Happy Birthday' rings out at Senior Citizens meet

There was an even dozen "honorees" at the pot-luck birthday luncheon held last week by Romulus Senior Citizens Club No. 1. Those being acknowledged for their August natal dates were Leona Buckberry, Millie Durdan, Emma Duhan, Henry Fisher, Donnie Gray and Marian Guyor.

The other half of the group included Willie Mae Kirkland, Cecelia Newbert, Katie Pankey, Elsie Robinson, Zela Thomas and Anna Zuhorski.

Several games of bingo were played after which two members of the Romulus Key Club stopped in to present the "seniors" with two sets of silver sugar and creamers on trays. Craig Toporek and Jon Dahlstrom, president and vice-president, respectively, made the presentation.

The club's most recent outing was a cruise to Bob-Lo Island where it spent the day and had lunch at the Haubrau Haus Restaurant.

Members are reminded of the quilting and sewing sessions held each Monday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and the weekly meetings on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the conference room of Romulus City Hall.

Emersons host birthday party

There was a party last week at Bill and Mary Ann Emerson's home that sort of served a dual purpose. Planned primarily for her cousin, Ron Lipinski's birthday, it also was a chance to visit with his mother, Mrs. Frank (Adelaide) Lipinski, who was here from Orange, Calif. for a visit.

The former Belleville resident (once of Martinsville Road and later of E. Huron River Drive) the West Coaster delighted the guests by baking her famous chocolate cake (always referred to as "Aunt Ad's cake").

Arriving at the Emerson's Martinsville Road home for the 6 p.m. smorgasbord and barbecue (a co-op affair) were Ed,

Finale to firemen's cook-out is summons to house fire

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

When Van Buren's Number One Fire Department gets together for a party it ends with sirens blowing, bells ringing, lights flashing and vehicles arriving at the fire hall in caravan fashion.

It also results in a few stranded wives since each man takes his own car due to his fire gear being stowed in the trunk.

It was from Wes and Agnes Elliott's Clarence Street home Aug. 24 that the men heard the call on their host's police radio. But for once, the group managed to finish eating and to enjoy a bit of "fire talk" before battling the house fire at Martz and Rawsonville Roads. The irony of the situation was that it was Wes Elliott's boyhood home that was ablaze.

But, getting back to the party itself, guests arrived around six and were seated at tables in the Elliott's beautiful little court which the man-of-the-house (a masonry expert) had designed around a special maple tree.

Van Buren Fire Commissioner Darwin Kureth and his wife, Laura, were special guests for the evening. Others bringing in dishes to accompany home-baked rolls and barbecued chicken were Fire Chief Walt Crawford and his wife, Bev; Don and Doris Bluhm, Phil and Judy Harris, Dick and Nancy Trevorow, and Dick and Irene Wall.

Still others attending were Gene and Maxine Miller, Bert and Lee Smith, Mike Remus with Linda Schlund, Sedley and Dorothy Mills, Gary Kovalchick and Brad Traskos.

Home Arts Club sets fall program

The Home Arts Club will hold its first meeting of the 1974-75 season Sept. 9 in the Home Ec room at the North Junior High again this year. The first meeting will be a lesson in modern dance by Maxie Jo Haase which should be FUN!

Members are to dress comfortably and junior or senior high school age daughters are invited to this meeting at 8 p.m.

The October 14 meeting will be the annual smorgasbord, at which each brings her specialty. It's not necessary to bring your table service, just bring a friend. Dinner will be at 7:00 p.m. sharp.

The November 11 meeting will be Christmas! More about that later!

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

HAROLD REDISKE, HAROLD REDISKE, JR. - DIRECTORS

"Honour thy father and thy mother..." The commandment requires self discipline; sometimes sacrifice. When the commandment is kept, there is always less confusion of the mind, more peace in the soul.

Not too long ago, a grown man of 26, posing as gentle, committed suicide in the midst of friends because people had discovered his parents were Jewish. He destroyed himself spiritually long before he destroyed his physical self when he denied his parental heritage. Though he denied his parents in life, they accepted him and wept at his death.

A business executive deceived his mother for years by having his secretary compose and type a letter to her twice monthly — which he signed. He did not want to take the time to write a letter himself. She went to her grave thinking she had a dutiful son who "took time" to write her regularly. He was unable to later liberate his conscience for his deceit.

Sooner or later, in every instance, there will be a fact of accountability for those who violate the... "Honour thy father and mother..."

Wayne church chosen for August nuptials

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne was the setting for the recent wedding of Linda Krystyniak and David Spellich, both of Belleville. The couple spent their two weeks honeymoon in Hawaii and Houghton Lake before taking up residence at 2607 Wiethoff, Inkster.

The bridegroom's cousin, Brother Andre Poisson, and The Rev. Raymond Sayers presided at the 12:30 p.m. nuptials. For the double ring rite, the altar was appointed with bouquets of white gladiolas and blue daisies. Music at the ceremony included "Hawaiian Wedding Song", "We've Only Just Begun" and "Time in A Bottle."

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Krystyniak of 48730 Judd Rd., Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. John Spellich of 46664 Ayres, Belleville, are parents of the young couple.

WALKING TO the sanctuary with her father, Linda was gown in a creation of organza and chuney lace over bridal taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a high bishop collar and shepherdess sleeves while the skirt was designed with a full chapel train flounced at the hem.

Her lace-banded mantilla veil was caught to a matching Camelot cap and her bouquet was comprised of ivory roses tipped in blue, baby's breath and Stephanotis.

A college roommate, Carol Zuppa of Allen Park, attended as maid of honor with Kathy Utley of Farmington and the bride's sisters, Chris and Theresa Krystyniak, as bridesmaids.

Identically dressed, they appeared in toe-touching blue polyester dresses flocked with a white floral print. Criss-cross bands and short flounced sleeves defined the little fitted bodices while blue-tipped ivory roses made up their headgear. The foursome also carried single long-stemmed roses to compliment their outfits.

FOUR-YEAR OLD Amy Wallman, daughter of the Richard Wallmans, and three-year old Tracy Randall, daughter of the junior Brank Randalls, were flowergirls. They, too, wore long blue frocks similar to the senior attendants' and carried baskets filled with daisies and baby's breath.

The bridegroom asked Jimmie Brown of Belleville to serve as best man. Ushers were Rick Mussehl, Bob Hall and Bob Bogardus Jr., all of Belleville.

The U.A.W. Hall near Belleville was reserved for the 6:30 p.m. reception which 300 guests attended. Mrs. Krystyniak greeted relatives and friends in a long mint green gown while Mrs. Spellich was in a blue formal. For the ceremony the two had worn street-length dresses in an aqua print and tearose pink, respectively. Both were presented with corsages of roses and Stephanotis to match their ensembles.

Cousins of the bride from New Bern, N.C., Debbie and Lori Dye; Mrs. Brank Randall Jr., sister of the bride, and Mrs. Edward McDaniel, sister of the bridegroom, cut and served the wedding cake. Another of the bride's sisters, Mrs. Richard Wallman, circulated the guest book.

AMONG THOSE attending were the bride couple's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul DuBois from Montpelier, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. John Spellich Sr. of Dollar Bay, Mich.

The new Mrs. Spellich, who is a teacher of commercial subjects at Belleville High School, was graduated there in 1969. She earned her teaching degree at Western Michigan University in 1973 where she was affiliated with Pi Omega Pi. Her husband, a 1970 alumnus of Belleville High, is employed in the flight kitchen of American Airlines at Metro Airport.

The senior Spellichs hosted the rehearsal party at their home the night before the wedding.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS S. BINGHAM

Groom's dad presides at wedding ceremony

With his father, Pastor William A. Bingham, presiding, Thomas Sawyer Bingham took Sharon Elaine Bolton as his bride at the First Baptist Church of Ypsilanti.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Northern Michigan for two weeks and then took up residence at 1630 Cram Ct., Ann Arbor.

Over 200 guests witnessed the couple's double ring vows at 7 p.m. Aug. 9. Two bouquets of white gladiolas, pink carnations and blue mums graced the altar as Sharon approached on the arm of her father.

THE DAUGHTER of Mr. and Mrs. U.T. Bolton of 47196 Ayres St., Belleville, the bride appeared in a gown and veil which her mother had made. Patterned along princess lines, the lace creation had a high neckline, long sleeves and an old-fashioned skirt which was drawn up at intervals with lace roses to reveal a slim accorion-pleated underslip.

Matching roses formed the bride's crescent headress which held her lace-banded fingertip veil. Completing her bridal ensemble was a colonial arrangement of white roses and baby's breath.

Maid of honor was the bride's twin sister, Karen Colleen Bolton, who donned a garden print frock in sheer pink flocked material. A round, ruffled neckline, puffed sleeves and ruffled flounce were styling details of the dress which was identical to those worn by the two other attendants, Diana Lynne Bolton and Mrs. Ralph Thompson of Ann Arbor, sisters of the bride pair, like the honor maid, carried pink baskets of pink carnations, fuji mums and baby's breath to match the blooms they wore in their hair.

William A. Bingham Jr. flew in from Washington, D.C. to be best man at his brother's wedding. Another brother, James R. Bingham of Ypsilanti, and a brother-in-law, Ralph Thompson of Ann Arbor, served as groomsmen.

MRS. BOLTON not only made the bride's and bridesmaids' gowns but also the blue crepe formal dress which she wore with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bingham, wore a mauve crepe gown with a cape collar and white shoes and handbag. Both were presented with corsages of white roses and baby's breath. The receiving line formed in the church hall where the reception was held.

Sharon, who graduated in June from Belleville High School, plans to attend Washtenaw Community College to study dental hygiene this fall. Tom graduated from Ypsilanti High School and Eastern Michigan University and is currently attending the University of Michigan School of Dentistry.

Reservations for the rehearsal party were made by the bridegroom's parents at the Flaming Pit in Ann Arbor.

Wood-Andrews to wed in autumn

MISS WOOD

Kim Sean Wood of Taylor and Johnnie Robert Andrews of Romulus are making plans for a Nov. 2 wedding at Calvary Baptist Church in Wayne. Their engagement is announced by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Wood of 22751 Koths, Taylor.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Andrews of 31647 Ecorse, Romulus.

Miss Wood, who works at Richman Brothers in Southland, was graduated from Truman High School. Her fiancé attended Romulus High School and is employed by the Ford Motor Co., in Wayne.

Two family reunions included in Pond's recent vacation

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Mr. and Mrs. H.J. Pond of Borgman Street returned to Belleville last week from Corning, Ark. where they had spent a week with the former's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold, and his mother, Mrs. Hattie Pond. While there they attended two family reunions and caught up on all the family news.

Mr. and Mrs. James Savage of Robbe Road, were guests last Wednesday evening of the latter's aunt, Mrs. James Caird, of Windsor, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Raymond of Roland Street enjoyed a vacation of several days recently in the Upper Peninsula at Curtis with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lindblad. The Raymond's small grandson, Joel O'Shay, accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Justin Emerson of Madelon Street have returned to Belleville after having spent 10 days at Manhattan, Kan. with their son and wife, Captain and Mrs. Sam Emerson and children, Mathew and Sarah. Sam had been home from Korea on a 15-day furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmidt of Plymouth are announcing the birth of a baby girl at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, Aug. 20, weight 7 lbs., 11 oz.

The baby, whose mother is the former Nancy Budd, daughter of the Jack Budds of the Expressway, has been named Christina Marie. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fulton of Liberty Street recently returned to Belleville from a trip north where they visited Tahquamenon Falls in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and spent several days with Mrs. Fulton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arndt, at Bellaire.

On Aug. 26 Mrs. Henry Sager of Columbia Avenue and house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Meerse of Ogallala, Neb. attended a 40th wedding anniversary party for cousins, Mr. and Mrs. William De Roo, at Holland. They were over night guests of other cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James Timmerman of Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Meerse left for Buffalo, N.Y. Aug. 27 to visit a son and family before returning to their home in Nebraska.

On Friday of last week Miss Marian Irwin of Water's Edge, Mrs. Roger Arnett of Riggs Road and Mr. and Mrs.

Henry Deering of Columbia Avenue enjoyed a motor trip along Lake Erie in Ontario and had dinner in Kingsville.

Mrs. B. P. Hopson of Belleville Road spent last week camping at Mesic on the Manistee River with friends, Mr. and Mrs. M. Munn and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hagadone.

On Aug. 25, Mrs. Elda Bohl of Robson Road attended the Joyce-Carlson Club, Matrons and Patrons of 1963-64, O.E.S., at the home of Mildred Finlayson of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart R. Hope of Racine, Wis. have been spending some time in Belleville with their aunt, Miss Margaret E. Hope of Main Street.

On Aug. 25, members of the Kum-joyn-us Class of the United Methodist Church with invited guests motored to Chelsea where they held a picnic supper at the Methodist Home. Special guests were 12 residents of the home, some of whom were former Belleville residents.

Pineapple torte is a special occasion cake

A three-layer beauty is a pineapple cake. It's graced with a glossy crushed pineapple filling and a cloud of satiny white frosting.

High, of course! Three layers with filling and frosting make it a sight to behold. Delectable, too, when you consider the combination that makes the cake.

It always comes back to the cake: filling and frosting are the finishing touches, but the cake must be tender, moist and light.

A cake like this is reserved for special occasions because of its size and handsome good looks. Do you have one coming up, soon? Here's the dessert:

Luscious Pineapple Torte
3 cups sifted cake flour
4½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup lard
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1½ cups milk

Line bottoms of three 9-inch cake pans with waxed paper. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream lard with sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla. Beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Pour batter into cake pans. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Cool and split each layer. Place first layer cut side down on cake plate. Add remaining layers, baked surface up. Spread each layer (except top) with two-third cup Pineapple Filling. Frost with White Satin Frosting. Use remaining Pineapple Filling to pour over cake for decoration.

PINEAPPLE FILLING
1 cup sugar
6 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon salt
2 cans (1 pound, 4½ ounces each) crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Drain pineapple well and reserve liquid. Gradually add 1½ cups pineapple liquid and 2 cups drained, crushed pineapple. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Add butter or margarine and lemon juice. Cool, stirring occasionally. Yield: approximately 1 quart.

WHITE SATIN FROSTING
1½ cups sugar
¾ cup water
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
2 tablespoons white corn sirup
4 egg whites
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Boil together sugar, water, cream of tartar and sirup. Insert candy thermometer. Continue boiling slowly until sirup reaches 250 degrees F. Beat egg whites until stiff enough to form peaks. Pour hot sirup very slowly in a thin stream into egg whites, beating constantly. Add sifted confectioners' sugar and vanilla, beat until frosting holds its shape.

Two new officers installed by WOM

Belleville Women of the Moose No. 1135 reports that Mrs. Emit Mills will receive her green cap at the convocation in Benton Harbor in October.

Two new officers were installed at the meeting Monday night: Mrs. Martha Morton, pianist, and Mrs. Frances Carter, sentinel.

The Academy of Friendship meeting is Sept. 5 at Marcella Schmeltz's.

The College of Regent meeting was held recently at Mrs. Max Koeppe's with a fine turn out.

Mrs. George Steger won the attendance drawing at the meeting and Mrs. Hank Ersol won the dark horse prize, a beautiful shawl made by Mrs. Max Koeppe.

Plans are being made for the group's 25th anniversary Oct. 26. Fish Fries will start again Sept. 6. The next meeting will be Sept. 9. New address books are now available and being sold by the collegians.

TOUCH OF HOMEMADE — With the advent of higher prices for almost everything, Western Wayne County residents are finding ways of circumventing the prices with do-it-yourself projects or cottage industry. The boom in at home work not only has proven helpful to budget-conscious homeowners, but also for those seeking the quality of handcrafts.

For cramped quarters

Try a room of many uses

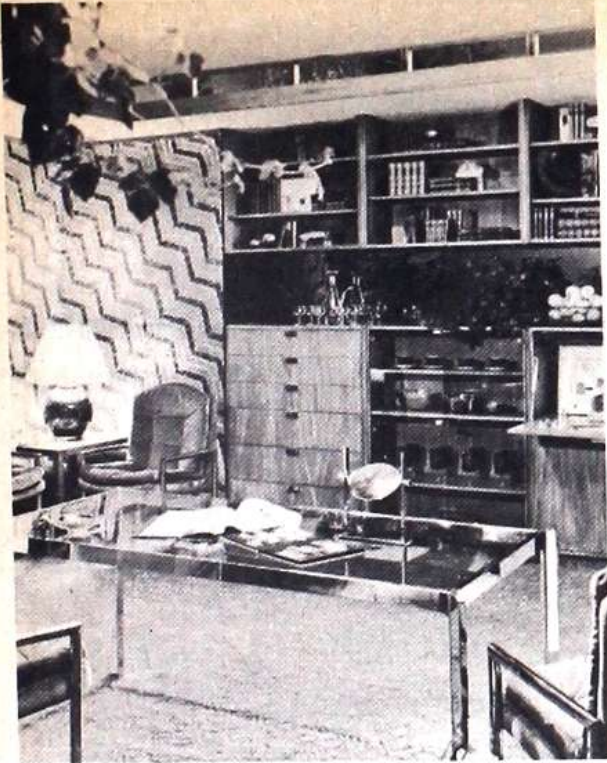

Most rooms in American homes have their own special character — a function that makes them unique. Unfortunately, limited space in apartments, condominiums, and smaller homes today makes it necessary that rooms serve more than one purpose. Although lifestyles differ, in most there is the need for a dining room — perhaps once a week or for special occasions. The tying up of such a room daily, however, is wasteful for working couples, for example. For people like them, a room ideally should be "convertible." More and more furniture manufacturers are considering home-office crosscurrents in decorating trends. The demand for flexible pieces with multiple uses is responsible for exciting homefurnishings in the marketplace today. FOR EXAMPLE, a room might alternate as a dining room, study, office, or recreation-music center. The Founders Parsons table of polished aluminum and glass doubles as a desk or a dining table. And although it is the "star" of this room drama, protagonists are the wall units in Patterns 30 by Founders. They flank an entire wall of the room for a built-in look of pin-knotty pecan. The lower units are 48 inches in height and, instead of mounting the matching 30-inch upper units on them, they're hung from the wall, mezzanine-like, leaving an open wall area free for television or for use as a buffet top.

Supporting cast includes the orange velvet chairs and the wallpaper with matching Roman shades in blues, oranges, and silver.

ALL ARE IN CONCERT with the Oakwynne sculptured carpet in Crystal Blue. A hand-blown smoked glass lamp with a rope shade is a subdued touch in a harmonious complementary color scheme. Not upstaging the room, but adding the finishing touches, is the Chandelier ceiling in the Barbary pattern with soffit windows. A room with a functional repertoire, it makes a lot of sense. You can make one room a dining room, a place to work on your stamp collection, a place to just relax, or an office where you can comfortably do your homework. If you're cramped for space, consider a "convertible" — a room with many encores.

VERSATILE ROOM — A room with many uses can be executed easily by anyone experiencing a shortage of space. All that is required is organization and planning plus some functional wall systems and adaptable furniture. The finished effort offers a combination dining room, study, and den.

Cottage industries are part of inflation scene

When is up down? When you make more money, but it buys less. That's exactly what has been happening to millions of Americans. From May 1973 to May 1974, "real spendable earnings" of a married worker with three dependents dropped 5.6 per cent.

WHAT ARE PEOPLE doing about it? For one thing, people seem to be taking vacations at home or traveling shorter distances this year, not because of gasoline shortages but because they simply have less to spend for vacations after meeting living costs. However, the 4-day and fewer-hours work week have given millions more leisure time. Yet there's less spendable income to spend. This paradox of "the good life" in America has started more and more people on the do-it-yourself trail. Power tool sales are up. Home remodeling is up, due in no small part to the extravagant mortgage rates and prices for new homes.

New furniture prices are soaring. All these factors are helping to make do-it-yourselfing in the home an even greater rage nationally than it was during its inception in the fifties. There's also a new phenomenon taking place. Sociologists report widespread acceptance of the novel notion that one can enjoy "work" and earn money at the same time.

IN ADDITION TO the growing tendency to moonlight at "outside" jobs in order to help balance the family budget, there is a rapid growth in the "cottage industry." The latter simply is the conversion of a hobby into a profitable business operated from the home.

A housewife, for instance, may take up painting or sewing, or making dolls, jewelry, stuffed toys or lamps for friends and relatives. Then she realizes that she could pay the rent by increasing production and she begins selling her handwork through gift or art shops or at art fairs.

Similarly, many men, both young woodworking shop students and more skilled retirees, have decided to turn their talents to making money from their own home shops and garages.

There is much evidence that the number of people self-employed in their spare time is increasing rapidly. This is found in reports in the Family Economics Bureau by companies that sell equipment to individuals for "family factories."

Home and Garden

WARREN ELECTRIC CO.

Garage junk is 'country chic'

Stop the garage sale! There still may be use for some of that "old junk."

This summer many Americans will hold a garage sale. But wait. That old wood clock, the tarnished brass bed, the creaky rocker...keep them. These items make great furnishings and accessories for the latest style in home decoration, Country Chic.

Designers have no one definition for the trend. Some interior designers call it "a marriage of patrician and peasant." Others call it "the mixing of the erstwhile quaint with the modern-day sophisticated." But basically, it's just the interplay of traditional or contemporary furnishings with rustic remnants from the rural past.

MARGARET GORDON Dana, an interior designer, said: "Just as there is no one definition for country chic, there is no one formula to achieve such an effect. However, there are certain elements common to all decoration in this style."

She said country chic decorating should have a "garden" freshness. Colors are as bright and gay as flowers or as natural as earth tones.

"Colors, like leaf green, sunshine yellow, and sky blue, played against the natural textures of weathered wood, bark and stone, lend drama, excitement and contrast to a room," Mrs. Dana said. "Plant-filled pottery is part of the look."

Country chic fabrics are denim, calico and gingham. FURNITURE ALSO has taken on the country look. Manufacturers are stressing straight-lined, simple, raw-grained wood pieces. These can be mingled with chrome, of Chicago registered a 70 per cent increase in sales of its laminating machines in 1973, compared with 1970. Another company that sells kilns for firing pottery and ceramic objects, increased sales by more than 100 per cent during the same period.

Decoupage plaques, macramé hangers, decorated "boutique" eggs, candles, all made by home artisans, can be found for sale everywhere and material suppliers to these handcrafts are enjoying an unexcelled boom.

As long as there's an abundance of leisure time in this country, combined with high prices and inflation, there's not much possibility that this boom will bust.

THERE IS A MATERIAL DIFFERENCE

Shutters bedeck a dreary kitchen

A homemaker who turned herit a generation or two ago would be overwhelmed upon returning to a kitchen of today, not just by the new and improved appliances and convenience foods, but by the materials used in creating the room.

In the old wood stove days, kitchens were the warmest rooms and the family gathering place, especially in colder months. As home heating improved, the family dispersed and the kitchen became simply a place in which to cook and wash dishes.

The emergence of the family room adjacent to or merged with the kitchen sparked another change in the layout and looks of kitchens, again bringing the family together in an informal setting.

THE KITCHEN DESIGNED by one architect for his home is modern and innovative, as well as compact and comfortably casual. Much of the comfort is due to the use of wood in its natural tones on walls and ceilings.

Setting the kitchen apart from others is one end wall enclosed from floor to ceiling with louvered wood shutters, behind which are the shelves and other storage usually found in wall-hung or built-in cabinets.

Set out from the shuttered wall is an island with sink, stove and other appliances, for food preparation. Adding a handsome, useful touch is an eating counter of laminated Douglas fir.

A large round table with hanging lamp in the adjacent dining area can be used for meals, family gatherings or for sitting around when entertaining friends.

DAZZLING EFFECT— Looking for a way to brighten your dining room. Try combining wood paneling and mirrors for a dazzling effect. The mirrors provide a spacious look while the wood gives it a homey look. The easy care surfaces are a perfect way to bedazzle dinner guests.

ADDING TO THE charm of the house is that it is built on a steeply sloping site and this room sits among the trees. Windows on three sides and a decked balcony off the dining area open the room to a sweeping valley view.

The ceiling of the kitchen is fir decking over fir beams and walls are western cedar paneling.

Decorating tips help create room personality

Looking for some unusual ways to brighten your home or give a drab room a character of its own? Try these helpful decorating tips.

Spark up your decor with huge paper flowers. Make them yourself or buy them in variety, novelty or stationery stores in bright, sunny tones. Use them in a large floor vase, mixed with cat-tails, dried ferns or other greenery, for a summer look all year long.

AND NOW THAT the straight lines of contemporary are so much in style, you can have greater range in which to individualize your rooms with well-chosen accent pieces.

A painted curio cabinet in Far Eastern styling or a Moorish commode highlighted with brass hardware could lend just the right personal touch to an otherwise modern setting. Choose each piece and its color carefully to blend with your basic decor.

If tired of looking at plain, drab walls while climbing the staircase to the upper level of your home, add personality to plain walls by covering them with an abundance of pictures in various sizes and shapes.

Buy unpainted frames at the hardware or 5-and-10-cent store and paint them in a variety of bright colors.

TO CREATE FURTHER interest, display certificates, diplomas, souvenir menus and programs along with prints and photos.

Floor-to-ceiling windows afford the luxury of lots of light, but can often create a problem of privacy. One solution is to install colorful shades upside down.

Pulleys are fastened to the top of the window frame and grommets to top of shade. Cords run through pulleys can be secured by a small peg at the side.

Also a good decorating solution for two rooms which adjoin one another is the use of companion wallcovering patterns.

These patterns are designed and colored to go together, yet each is different and can stand on its own merits decor-wise. At the same time, each enhances the other and provides a feeling of compatibility of the two rooms.

SHUTTER 'BUG'?— Louvered wood shutters lend a distinctive look to any kitchen while covering storage shelves. Food preparation also gets a dash of change in their shuttered kitchen with a laminated counter top of Douglas fir. The ceiling is fir while the wall paneling is western cedar.

Walls dazzle diners

The definition of elegance changes with time, moving from heavy drapes and overstuffed furniture to today's light, air look.

Dining rooms have changed in appearance over the years and now even the smallest can look spacious with a dazzling look.

Try paneling the room's walls with an alternating pattern of long, narrow mirrors and wood for a real eye stopper.

The mirrors create a sense of spaciousness while their grainy companions offer a natural effect. With light of the essence, the mirrors will add a dazzling effect to even the faintest candlelight, making your room the topic of conversation.

The mirrors and paneling also have a practical side. While looking both expensive and elegant, they offer easy care surfaces for today's busy housewife.

The materials are available at most building materials centers and offer a tempting task for the weekend do-it-yourselfer.

CLOSING OUT THE SEASON—Youngsters in the Belleville-Romulus area found a few moments of sunshine this past weekend and used it for one last session in the sandbox before swapping shorts and sandals for dresses and school books. The children found the sunny play area at Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville a delightful place to while away the waning moments of summer vacation.

Summer season hits Meadow Brook Hall

Western Wayne County residents interested in seeing what life was like in the age of auto barons may find a visit to Meadow Brook Hall in Rochester a treat for the waning days of summer or for the color-filled fall weekends.

What better time than balmy summer days to discover the luxury of Meadow Brook Hall?

Stroll the grounds of the exquisite estate, through formal fountains and rose arbors which edge the vast lawns stretching out to distant towering trees of every shape and shade.

Wander at your leisure through this historic residence. Original furnishings and art works fill the former home of Matilda and Alfred G. Wilson. Towering stone walls and hand-carved paneling grade the Great Hall, with formal family rooms, silken bedrooms and little breakfast room. Meadow Brook Hall is the essence and substance of an existence of almost limitless wealth.

Knole Cottage, nestled at the end of a wooded path not far from the hall is a 6-room mini-mansion built in 1926 at the cost of $10,000 for Frances Dodge's 12th birthday. Complete built in 1926 at the cost of $10,000 for Frances Dodge's 12th birthday. Complete with functional furnishings built to three-quarter scale, Knole Cottage contains a collection of dolls and miniature china. Everything stands waiting just as it did when it was the playhouse for the little heiress to the Dodge fortune.

Entrance to Meadow Brook Estate is located on Adams Road just south of Walton Boulevard. Admission to Meadow Brook Hall is $3.50 for adults, $2 for senior citizens and children under 12. Knole Cottage tours are 50 cents.

Disney captures audience

Laughter will set the mood for "Disney On Parade" as it returns for its final engagement at Olympia Stadium on Tuesday. The musical extravaganza, now touring throughout the world, is scheduled for nine performances through Sept. 15.

For 2½ hours, Mickey Mouse and all the Disney favorites will transform fantasy to life in color productions. Back are stories like "Further Adventures of Pinocchio," the magic of "Bedknobs and Broomsticks," country-hillbilly music in "Bear Band Jam-boree," and Goofy cavorting with lovable Herbie the Love Bug in "Used Car Lot."

One of the major highlights of this year's show is the magical nanny Mary Poppins flying into Olympia with her umbrella and traveling bag. The cast of Disney will join with the audience for that traditional finale, "It's A Small World."

Costumes, special music and classic favorites will make this final performance of "Disney On Parade" special.

"Disney On Parade" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. weekdays, at 11 a.m., 3 and 7:30 p.m. Saturday and at 2 and 6 p.m. Sunday.

Parade of antique cars set for Greenfield Village show

Western Wayne County residents with a yen to visit the past will be able to step back into the era of old cars at Greenfield Village's Old Car Festival this weekend.

As part of the varied activities at the 24th annual festival the village will take time out to honor some very special guests.

On Saturday, the village will pay tribute to Eugene T. Gregorie, one of the nation's outstanding automotive stylists.

GREGORIE IS CREDITED with establishing the first real styling department at Ford Motor Co. He headed that department through 1948.

He is famous for his design of the Lincoln Continental Mark I, a classic American car.

During special ceremonies at the Old Car Festival, Gregorie will be recognized for his styling achievements and made an honorary member of the Antique Automobile Club of America.

On Sunday, the village will honor Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. for its continuing contributions to the automobile industry.

THE OLDEST EXISTING and only independent manufacturer of automobiles in Canada, the company received its charter on August 17, 1904. Automobile production began on October 10, 1904, at the Walkerville Wagon Co. plant in what is now Windsor, Ontario.

The special ceremonies are only a part of the action planned for this year's festival. Each day's festivities begin at 12:30 p.m. with a parade of antique automobiles through the village streets to the activities field. These cars are judged for authenticity and excellence of restoration

Civic group celebrates a musical anniversary

The Dearborn Civic Theatre has planned its 10th anniversary season and to help celebrate the occasion, a special ticket rate now is available.

The theatre-going public will have an opportunity to see some of Broadway's best entertainment at substantial savings.

In past seasons, the Dearborn Civic Theatre has staged a wide variety of productions in the areas of comedy, drama and musicals in order to achieve a well balanced year.

Due to tremendous appeal and response from subscribers to musical productions and to celebrate the 10th Anniversary year, the group has selected a choice group of four musical hits for the new season.

Beginning this month with the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "The King And I," and continuing with "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" in November, followed by "Zorba" in February and "Follies" in April.

A subscription or season pass is available for $9, a savings of 75 cents per ticket when purchased at the box office.

Lutheran Synod continues plans for new congregation

A recent information meeting that attracted a "fine turnout" of interested people has encouraged the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod to move ahead with plans to found and organize a new congregation in the Romulus-Taylor area.

The information meeting was conducted at the Eureka Heights School in Taylor.

The room used for the meeting was filled with people who heard Pastor Herbert Kuske, chairman of the Michigan District Mission Synod, explain how the district and the Wisconsin Synod Mission Board work together with a new congregation to help them get started, grow and expand.

Pastor Kuske also pointed out several ways in which all of the people immediately could begin to help the new venture.

Rev. Dale R. Schulz of Taylor also addressed the group telling them of activities which already are in progress as well as upcoming events, including the first Sunday School session and worship services scheduled for Sept. 8 at the Eureka Heights School.

Sunday School will start at 9:30 a.m. and the church services will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Pastor Edward G. Zell and several members from the Lola Park Lutheran Church in Detroit attended the meeting. They encouraged the new church by expressing a desire to assist the new congregation.

Township officials to hold educational meet at EMU

Township officials of the 18th District of the Michigan Townships Association (MTA) will hold an educational meeting at 9 a.m. Sept. 17 at Eastern Michigan University.

The 18th MTA District comprises the counties of Wayne, Washtenaw, Monroe and Livingston. More than 325 officials from the four counties have been invited to attend.

The all-day educational meeting will include presentations from State of Michigan personnel representing the Department of Treasury, Department of Natural Resources, State Tax Commission, State Construction Code, the governor's office and state members of the MTA.

The day's agenda includes education in the field of planning and zoning, elections, finance and accounting, tax relief, state construction code and land use legislation.

For the certified township supervisors and assessors, a 3-hour session will be held by the State Tax Commission to permit all supervisors and assessors in attendance to renew their assessor's certificate.

Col. Joseph A. Parisi, executive director of the MTA, will have general charge of the meeting.

Berean Baptist to hold meeting

An evangelist with the extension staff of the Chicago Moody Bible Institute will begin meetings at the Berean Baptist Church, located at 6889 Belleville Rd., Belleville, starting with the 11 a.m. services Sunday.

The night meetings are scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. including Saturday.

A graduate of the pastoral training course at Moody, The Rev. James B. Calhoun has devoted himself to a pastoral and evangelistic ministry. In his more than 40 years of experience, he has served in two Michigan pastorates and conducted evangelistic campaigns from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic seaboard.

Mr. Calhoun has been with the Moody Bible Institute for more than 40 years. He was born in Pennsylvania and received his early education there. He and his wife, Evelyn, have three children. They live in Jackson.

'We have the talent'

Baldwin eyes perfect season

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

When a coach inherits a team that has won only one game in eight, he doesn't talk about going undefeated. But, Tom Baldwin, the 24-year-old Romulus High grid mentor who replaced Jim Stallings as the top strategist, is doing just that - talking about an unbeaten football season.

And, do you know what - people are listening.

"I THINK we have the people here that can go undefeated," said Baldwin. "We're going to have to revamp our defense and install a more potent offense. "But I think we can do it," Baldwin reiterated.

If Baldwin can pull it off, he'll be accomplishing a miracle. No one in these parts can remember when Romulus has had a perfect season on the gridiron.

And with Royal Oak Shrine and Pontiac Catholic Central added to the Eagle schedule this year, Baldwin's goal is as ambitious as Evel Knievel's leap across Grand Canyon with a motorcycle.

"THESE KIDS got what it takes to be a winner," insisted Baldwin who was an outstanding griddier at Ferris State in the late sixties and at Mt. Morris High.

Baldwin, who has 43 hopefuls out for varsity, has 12 lettermen returning from last year's squad. In that pack are Andre Parson, a 5-foot-11, 165-pound senior tailback who was the Eagles' leading rusher in last year's campaign; Larry Courtney, a 5-foot-10, 160-pound halfback, and junior Ed Abbott, a husky 6-foot-4, 220-pound tackle who, of course, will go both ways.

Sedlacek, who has matured into a 6-foot-2, 195-pound senior, also is a reliable two-way performer.

ONE PROBLEM the old Romulus grid machine had last year was it couldn't move the ball offensively. Baldwin hopes to resolve his problems by promoting versatile athlete Michael Morrison to the job.

"Morrison can pass and run and has the intelligence to run this team," said Baldwin. "I feel this is one department

GETTING 'THE TOE' IN SHAPE — With their first game just nine days away, Romulus gridders are polishing up to face the challenge of meeting some of the top teams in the state this season. And one facet of the game that needs some improvement is the Eagles' kicking game which will be handled by Bob Blundell. Holding the ball is Mike Morrison, a versatile athlete who will do the Eagles' quarterbacking this year.

How physical fitness saved a life

By TOM MOORADIAN

Dewie Cole is six-foot, 225-pounds and is a former Wayne Memorial football star who made the All-Area football team for three consecutive years back in 1967.

And the 26-year-old Adams Junior High School teacher can thank his physique for his life.

Dewie was involved in an auto mishap last week while returning home from the Westland John Glenn football camp. The driver of the car apparently lost control of the vehicle and when it was all over, Cole was pinned under the car.

He came away with a broken collar bone.

"I guess I'm pretty lucky," said Cole who is an assistant line coach at John Glenn. "The docs told me that if it wasn't for my physical condition I wouldn't have gotten away the way I did."

COLE said he was a passenger in the car and was asleep when the accident occurred on I-96 near Ionia. He was rushed to Ionia Hospital, then later transferred to University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

A versatile athlete, Cole lettered in football, wrestling and baseball while at Wayne. He attended Adrian College where he also lettered three years as a defensive tackle.

Dewie's assignment as assistant coach at Glenn is being handled by Leo Schuster.

When will Cole be back in the Rocket lineup?

"I hope to be ready for our first game on Sept. 13 when we play Fordson," said Dewie.

I CAN'T BELIEVE the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations is serious about its "Moses Malone" resolution.

If you didn't catch it in one of the metropolitan newspapers, let me reprint the resolution here for you. It reads like this:

"So many high school athletes are contemplating 'turning pro' that the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations at its recent convention in Louisville, Ky. adopted a resolution calling for '...An agreement which would prohibit any professional basketball team from signing a student who has remaining high school eligibility."

...And a 'thank you'

Dear Mr. Mooradian:

We would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to you and your staff for the outstanding coverage you have given the R.L.S.L. during the season.

It has greatly helped us in organizing and operating our league. All the women that participated this year were very pleased and enthusiastic to see their teams represented in the paper.

We are enclosing four complimentary tickets to our annual softball banquet to be held September 14, at Progressive Hall.

The program will start with dinner at 7:00 p.m. Awards and dance will follow. Please let us know if you can attend. We look forward to seeing you and your guests that evening. Many of the ladies in our league have expressed their desire to personally thank the Romulus Roman for their extended coverage.

Sincerely,

Lou Warden

Michigan State has honored three of its greatest athletic leaders by naming sports facilities after them. They are Ralph H. Young (outdoor track), John H. Kobs (baseball field) and Clarence "Biggie" Munn (ice arena).

CHANGING OF THE GUARDS — With the department of Jim Stallings from the gridiron coaching scene, Romulus High will begin a new football era this fall as head Coach Tom Baldwin (center) takes over as the Eagles' top strategist. Assisting Baldwin will be Fred Coleman (at left) and Dennis Stoh. Stallings, who was designated as interim coach last year, left the Romulus School District to accept a teaching-coaching position at Trenton High. Romulus will launch the 1974 campaign on Sat., Sept. 14 when it clashes with Royal Oak Shrine.

Huron's 'first 11' as good as any'

"I feel we can field a first '11' that could match anyone's."

With those words Coach Jim Rossow summed up his feelings about New Boston Huron's 1974 football team.

And for a team that won only one of its nine starts last year, it can only mean better things are ahead.

But Rossow cautioned: "Our depth chart is thin and any injury will cost us dearly."

WITH A MERE 25 players out for the varsity, it's obvious that the Chiefs have to stay healthy in order to compete. And, with only a handful of players, it also means the personnel will have to go both ways - play defense as well as offense.

"We're going to be a little more conservative this year and stay on the ground," said Rossow. "I feel we have some backs who can handle the ball well and our quarterbacks are equally capable of running."

A sophomore, Craig Bettie, and a junior Russ Ikerd are battling for the right to call the signals for the Chiefs.

"The two candidates look equal in almost every way," says Rossow. "So, whoever shows the most for the week will get the nod to start that week."

THERE IS no doubt that Rossow had solid performers in Bill Grove, Ken Smith and Al Dudek, whom he has designated as the Chiefs' tri-captains for the coming season.

Grove is an outstanding college prospect who is 6-foot, 260-pounds and has matured into one of the better defensive and offensive tackles in the league and area.

"He's very quick," said

14 lettermen boost Belleville grid stock

In 1973, Belleville High won its first three football games. Then, Coach Keith Emerson's Tigers were hit by a series of injuries which led to a catastrophic 0-6 stretch run that left the Belleville squad with a dismal 3-6 over-all record.

What will the 1974 Tigers have to do to better that record?

"FOR ONE thing we're going to have to play a more consistent type of game and run the ball with more authority," said Emerson who, though entering his fifth year as Belleville's head coach, will be starting his 17th season as coach.

"We have the potential," continued Emerson, "the over-all team speed is the best we have had here in a long time."

"But you have to tie up the loose ends to become a winner."

Emerson pointed out that this year's schedule, which includes Wayne Memorial and Ypsilanti - two nonleague rivals - plus the Suburban 8 Conference teams - "is, in my opinion, the best schedule that any Belleville team has ever played."

BELLEVILLE WILL launch off the season on Fri. Sept. 13 against Wayne Memorial, a team that has come a long way in the past few years. Wayne also has moved into the ranks of some of the "toughest" in the Great Lakes 8.

Fourteen lettermen dot the Tiger roster this year and in that group are Don Theodore, a 6-foot-1, 171-pound junior tailback who was the team's leading rusher. Also back is Perry Dingham, a 175-pound, six-foot senior halfback and Vic Busby, who is making a switch from the line to the backfield. Busby is six-foot, 210-pounds.

All-Area baseball star, Dave Dapsi, who worked his way into the starting lineup as a fullback last year, will be using his husky 5-foot-11, 195-pound frame on the line as a tackle.

Emerson is taking a good

look at Brian Cullin (5-11, 170), Steve Davis (5-11, 165) and Mark Ostrowski (6-1, 190) as starting guards while Jeff Beck, a 190-pound, 6-foot-5 tackle and Mike Stanley, a 5-10, 165-pound end also have excellent shots as starters.

Other returning lettermen include Sam Robinson, a 6-2, 175-pound flanker and Tom Sole, a 168-pound, 5-11 guard.

SCRIMMAGES have proved fruitful for Tom Bauer, a 170-pound, 6-1 center and Tom Sayre, a 190-pound, 6-1 tackle who appear ready to take on starting roles. Halfback Dennis Easley, a 6-foot-1, 175-pound halfback, and Stan Mobley, a 5-9, 160-pound guard, also are promising candidates.

Emerson will have to decide between Mark Verrot, a 5-9, 150-pound senior and Dan Scripser, a 6-0, 175-pound junior as his starting quarterback.

"Mark didn't play at all in the position last year," said Emerson, "he's a defensive halfback who we are converting. However he did quarterback the reserves as a sophomore."

Dan was last year's reserve signal-caller.

IT WON'T take long for Belleville to understand where it stands in the Suburban 8 Conference title race this year. They'll open the league campaign with Allen Park, then take on Livonia Bentley. Emerson explains: "The two teams are ranked as the pre-season favorites, so we'll know right off the bat what we're made up of."

"There's a lot of work ahead of us, but there is one consolation, these boys realize it."

And, if the Tigers should happen to get by the Parkers and Livonians, there is always Trenton, the undefeated defending league champs awaiting in the prove the experts overlooked them.

The action came about when high school star Moses Malone was drafted by the American Basketball Association. Malone will attend the University of Maryland this fall.

That's what the article said, but Malone reportedly signed a contract that will give him a fantastic sum of $3 million in the next five years.

Heck, if a kid goes to college, completes his studies and works his way out for the next 20 years he won't make what Moses will make for his efforts on the basketball court.

What high school coach, or parent, or anyone would tell a kid to continue his education if that kid could make $3 million in a short span?

The athlete could buy his own college if he wanted to.

Resolution, humbug.

What we need are more opportunities for our young athletes to get more scholarships, more money - if the owners of the pro teams weren't making the money, no way would they be offering that kind of dough to an 18-year-old athlete.

The calm before the storm, that's the feeling we sense in these parts tonight.

The lull in the sandlot action, and the pending prep grid season gave us an opportunity to peruse the scores of football material that is accumulating on our desk.

And you know that the football season is here when the brochures begin to flood your desk.

Here's what some of those fact sheets had to say about our ex-prep stars.

Do you remember Keith Simons? The ex-Belleville High terror set a national pin record in wrestling while in high school, but the University of Minnesota is grooming him for All-American honors in football. Here's what they say:

KEITH SIMONS

"Now in this third year of varsity ball, Keith started every game the last two years as a defensive tackle and is still only a junior. This young giant is a sure bet for All-American honors the next two seasons. Has exceptional speed for his size (6-5, 247) having been clocked in 4.75 for the 40. Has spent two years learning and now should really come off the mark on his own.

Coach Cal Stoll calls Keith "one of the best he has coached."

ONE OF THE players that Simons played against while he was in high school, is ex-Robichaud star, William Smith, who is also getting the notices at Michigan State University.

Here's what MSU has about the all-star:

"Smith hopes to be fully recovered from a spring knee injury as he heads into his sophomore year. He has made excellent progress and right now is backup swing man behind the McClowry brothers - Patrick and Terrence (Dearborn Sacred Heart) - at linebacker.

"Willie appears to have all the tools needed to be a fine player. Has the size (6-0, 220) and speed and will get much better as he gets playing opportunities.

"He saw brief game action in 1973, his play totaling seven minutes. Smith can run the 40 yards in 4.7. He's majoring in business law and office administration.

KIRK LEWIS, Garden City West's ex-All-American end, is also coming off of an injury and hopes to earn a starting left guard slot at the University of Michigan.

But Kirk will have to beat Jim Armour, who presently has the inside track on the position.

He's enrolled in med school's accelerated program...which means Kirk is real smart.

OF COURSE I got to thank the SID's (Sports Information Directors) for the above information. And if there are any other SID's tuned in, please wire us about our ex-ball players.

It helps an old man on nights when it's slow.

At 92, he's equipment grid boss

Joe Sabol, who's head football coach at Norwich, was asked the other day what makes his football program unique.

Here's Joe's answer: "Our equipment manager is 92-year-old John Ladd whose responsibility is washing, drying and folding all football uniforms and towels.

"John's been married 70 years and at Norwich since age 65. He still works a seven-hour five-day week, but we push him a little during the fall when he has to go seven days."

Huron harriers sport 2 gals on roster

New Boston Huron may not end up first in the Huron Conference cross country title race this season, but Coach Mike Mathews may have already chalked up a first before the 1974 campaign has even started.

If you look close at the Huron lineup, you'll find the names of Janan Fakhoury and Lori Elliot who are the first girls in that school's history to try out for the cross country team.

Janan, a junior, runs a 61 seconds flat for the quarter-mile and has been clocked at 28.2 for the 220, which isn't bad...for a girl. And the determined lassie is now ready to challenge the grueling three-mile course.

"JANAN doesn't look too bad," said second year Coach Mathews, "she isn't strong physically speaking, but she has the endurance."

Huron, which posted a 4-7-1 won-lost-tied record last year, will begin the 1974 season on Sept. 12 against nonleague rival Dundee.

Mathews isn't worried about titles this season as he readily admits "it is a rebuilding year for us."

"With only two people back from last year and those two are juniors, we're really young," said Mathews. "We're definitely building for the future."

The two holdovers from last year's squad are Bob Tillotson, who was the Chiefs' No. 3 runner and Keith Frazier, ranked No. 5 in last year's campaign.

New talent include Don Bennett, a senior who covers the quarter in 52 seconds and brother, Dave, a sophomore. Though Tim Briery, last year's MVP for the sport has graduated, there is another Briery on the squad.

Dan, Tim's brother, is a freshman who has been clocked in 5:02 for the mile as an eighth grader.

Janan's brother, Kerry, is also trying out for the team and looks promising. Scott Berry, a senior, rounds out the lineup.

IT'S GOING to be tough for the Chiefs to equal last year's record, let alone better it, but Mathews feels that his harriers could provide some surprises.

"The league looks like it's going to be awfully even this year," said Mathews, "so it's difficult for us to say where we will stand."

Huron 1st string tough

Smith will see duty, playing end offensively and a safety on defense. Ken's dimensions are 6-foot-4, 185-pounds. He's also a senior.

AL DUDEK will double as a linebacker and fullback, using a 6-foot-0, 180-pound frame to do both jobs.

Other notables include Rick Elkins, a 6-foot-1, 175-pound junior right halfback, Ted Pappas, a 5-foot-10, 165-pound junior, George Balowski, a 5-foot-11, 175-pound guard, center Brad Booth (5-11, 160-pounds), guard Jeff Trater (5-10, 160), and tackle Dave Dikes (6-0, 175).

Rossow is grooming Dave Morris, a 6-0, 175-pound junior and Frank Martin, a 5-9, 140-pound senior as ends.

MONROE Catholic Central may be the Huron Conference's defending champ, but it will be hard-pressed for the title by Tecumseh and Grosse Ile, according to Rossow.

"Of course it's too early to say, but off of what is returning to these teams I feel Tecumseh has the best shot at the title with Grosse Ile right in the dogfight," said the Chiefs Rossow.

Brothers Dave and Mike Duda, of Mt. Clemens, Mich. are vying for the punting role on Michigan State's 1974 football team.

Baldwin eyes perfect season

Michael is a 5-foot-11, 165 pound junior whose elusiveness and deception were displayed on the basketball court last season.

Another dependable two-way performer is George Butler, a 6-foot-0, 180-pound senior. He is being groomed as an offensive guard and a defensive end.

A North Carolina product, John Hixon, a 6-foot-1, 175-pound griddle looks like a sure bet for the starting assignment at one of the safety slots while senior John Braithwaite, a 6-foot-0, 185-pound fullback has returned to the squad after missing last year's campaign because of an injury.

ADD TO the list the name of Steve Holliday, a 180-pound 6-foot-1, senior tight end and you'll have accounted for most of the notables.

Romulus will again be competing without the benefit of league competition. The "homeless" Eagles are independent for the third straight year.

It was one of the reasons why Stallings, who coached the Eagles for one year, found it difficult getting his players "up" for the season.

There were no league championships at stake. Will this hinder Baldwin's team?

"I believe so," said the rookie coach, "players, especially on the high school level like to shot for a league title."

"However, I know I'm not going to have to get our players up for our first two games."

Pastor's wife surveys flag's history with poem

The American flag flies over every capital and almost every building throughout the United States. Inspired by its appearance, the wife of The Rev. Otis Carter, pastor of the Church of God of Romulus, has written a poem about it.

As seen through the "eyes" of the flag, She depicts its history from its conception until now.

If I could only speak today, I'd have many things to say, I'd tell about the time I was born, on that eventful day; I'd tell how Betsy sewed my stripes, with love she felt was due.

The stripes of red and white she made, and white stars on a field of blue.

I've been respected wherever I went, on foreign lands or home, I've stood for right, when others failed, wherever I chanced to roam; When I appeared, the people stood and saluted as I passed, And many silent tears have dropped, and glistened on the grass.

I've sailed across the mighty seas, on ships that stood the storm,

I've waved there on the coldest days, and sometimes when 'twas warm: When we pulled into harbor, tho we were far away, The folks would point to us with pride - We were from U.S.A.!

I've flown on highest mountains, I've been in valleys low, I've stood on stately mansions, and huts where cold winds blow; It makes no difference tho to me, if rich or poor you be, I'm standing there beside you, proclaiming liberty!

I've stood in many churches where people kneel to pray,

I've heard them as they've cried to God, to help them on their way; I've listened as they prayed to Him, and repented of their sins, I've seen their many tears of joy, as He lovingly took them in.

I've waved across the mighty schools, of learning in our land, I've glowed with pride, to see our youth, for truth and right to stand:

They learn the 'Hows and Whys' of things. They know books to the letter, And those who follow in their steps, find life a little better.

I've kept a lonely vigil, where many loved ones sleep, I've stayed there thru the heat and cold, I've heard their loved ones weep: I've seen the small and great brought in, and lie there side by side, For all men then are equal, the moment they have died!

I've stood on many battle-grounds, and waved there thru the fight,

To encourage those in the distance, that were fighting for the right; I've seen our soldiers, old and young, as they lay there on the ground, Dying there in agony, that freedom might abound.

But times have changed, in recent years, and we find those without, Who'd tear my stripes and stars to shreds, and trample me about: They have no fear to do what's wrong, to others will they bend, I bow myself in shame today, and ask, "where will it end?"

Meeting people is his problem

The recently-appointed director of parks and recreation for Van Buren Township has found his biggest problem on the job to be getting to know people in the area and letting them know how enjoyable recreation can be.

"I've discovered that this community still doesn't know me," said Jeff Clark, a 22-year-old graduate of Michigan State University. "My job boils down to this: people. Plain and simple, dealing with people."

Wayne County 4-H Fair attracts many residents

Although revenue was several thousands of dollars below last year and the admission fee was higher, the 28th annual Wayne County 4-H

Fair was considered a "satisfying operation" by officials of the Wayne County 4-H Fair Association, sponsors of the event.

The 6-day fair which ran from Aug. 13-18, attracted between 10-15,000 persons and an increased number of displays, exhibits and entries in the open class competitions, according to Mrs. Wilford Bunyea, association treasurer.

The fair's attendance slightly was higher than last year despite the increase in this year's admission price to $1 per car plus 50 cents per passenger, from a $2 membership card per car regardless of the number of passengers in 1973.

Van Buren firemen answer 17 alarms

Van Buren Township Fire Department No. 1, located in downtown Belleville, answered 17 fire calls during July.

The fire calls involved seven grass, two car, one house one shed and one dumpster fires. There were two false alarms received by the department. In addition, three calls, involving high tension wires, were handled by firemen.

Sumpter trustees eye weekly trash services

The weekly collection of rubbish in Sumpter Township, currently under a summer collection program which ends Aug. 31, will be continued throughout the year.

The Sumpter Township Board of Trustees recently ordered the letting of new bid proposals on a weekly basis, instead of twice-a-month pickups as initially contracted for by the township.

The present rubbish collection contractor Edsel Beaudrie of Sumpter Township has been picking up the township's trash on a twice-a-month basis in the winter and weekly during the summer months. His current contract expires in December.

New bid proposals for a weekly rubbish pickup contract must be submitted to the clerk's office by 5 p.m. Sept. 24.

Planning the proper and best use of land requires the efforts of both municipal and private experts. Many cities and towns are now trying to correct the mistakes of the past. When developments are entirely new there is latitude to effect designs that are functionally and aesthetically correct. In some areas complete new cities are rising out of the wilderness as if by magic. The cost of developing raw land can exceed its original cost by four or five times. When the time comes for you to buy or sell real estate, see the professionals at NORWOOD REALTORS, 899 S. Wayne Rd., Westland, 326-4500 & 30519 Ford Rd., Garden City, 522-2900. We invite you to give us your listing; we are so confident of our ability to sell real estate which is properly priced that we will guarantee to sell it. If we fail, we buy it. Airport to add shops

In a drive to create minority-owned shops at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, the Wayne County Road Commission has named three black businessmen to operate stores now being constructed in the north and south terminals.

According to the Inner-City Business Improvement Forum (ICBIF), which was charged by the commission with locating prospective owners, these businessmen will soon open gift and cutlery shops, a record store and men's and women's boutiques at the airport.

After evaluation of proposals and negotiation with the bidders, the commission awarded three contracts for seven locations to minority bidders. A total of 17 locations are being readied at the airport.

THE SHOP OWNERS are seasoned managers who have long been involved with other Detroit companies.

Theopolis L. Gilmore, who will run a gift cutlery shop in each terminal, owns the Pick-A-Pearl gift shop in Northland Center. He created Antique Designs, a firm that manufactures, imports and distributes crafted jewelry and specialty items. His products have been featured in nationally-known publications and the film "Detroit 9000."

Robert M. Carter, who will own a men's and ladies' boutique in each terminal, operates Tiffin Dyan, a women's clothing shop on Livernois in Detroit. He previously served as regional merchandising manager for Arlan's Department Stores, responsible for 25 branches in ten states.

Johnny Jones Tillman, who will operate a record shop at Metro Airport, has managed Len's One-Stop, a wholesale record distribution company in Detroit for ten years.

ALL THE SHOPS are scheduled to open this fall.

ICBIF was selected by the Office of Minority Business Enterprise (OMBE) to locate minority bidders for these concessions. The ICBIF staff identified prospective bidders, helped them prepare their proposals, and is now assisting with financing.

Funds to start these shops are expected to come largely from Detroit banks, the Small Business Administration and Minority Enterprises, Small Business Investment Companies (MESBIC) such as Independence Capital Formation (ICF) and Pooled Resources Investing in Minority Enterprises (PRIME).

ICBIF is a minority economic development corporation founded in 1967 to provide financial, managerial and technical assistance to minority businesses and businessmen, to set up new minority businesses and strengthen existing ones—thus creating new job opportunities for minorities—and to help develop minority entrepreneurs and managers to run these businesses.

CLERK

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP BOARD MINUTES

REGULAR BOARD MEETING,
AUGUST 27, 1974

Meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Supervisor Gollwitzer called the meeting to order at 7:30 P.M.

Board members present were: SUPERVISOR GOLLWITZER, CLERK CULLIN, TREASURER HEDMAN, AND TRUSTEES BLEND, KUCHTA, DOMEN AND KURETH. Also present were Engineer Kelley, Secy, Soja and 9 interested citizens. (Alice Porzondek, Kenneth Barks, Kathy Howard, Imogene Pence, Darryl Robson, Fred Scallinger, Chris Parks of Ypsi Press, Mr. Berry & Mr. Buttigieg of Land Mark restaurant and Jeff Clark, Van Buren Park Director.) Attorney Axe arrived at 7:45 p.m.

Motion Hedman, support Kuchta, to accept the minutes of the regular meeting of the Van Buren Township Board of Aug. 13, 1974 as presented. Carried.

Motion Blend, support Domen, to note and file the Resolution from Brownstown Township in regards to the manufacture and sales of hand guns. Carried.

Motion Cullin, support Kureth, to support the United Foundation Fund Drive. Carried. Motion Kuchta, support Kureth, to issue a proclamation in support of the United Fund. Carried.

Motion Kuchta, support Hedman, to refer the request for soft ball diamonds to the Recreation Commission. Domen asked Kuchta to include in his motion "and Jeffery Clark the Recreation Director." Kuchta so did and Hedman supported the addition. Motion carried.

Motion Cullin, support Domen, to have the Township Attorney write a letter to President Ford in behalf of the Township to eliminate the technicalities in the federal administration of the grant program for financing the Secondary additions to the Wyandotte Sewer Plant. Carried.

Clerk Cullin read a letter from the 4-H Fair Board thanking the Police Dept. for a job well done at the fair. Motion Kureth, support Hedman, to table approval of the Recreation Commission by-laws. After some discussion Clerk Cullin made the motion to table until the Township attorney arrives. Kureth withdrew his motion and Hedman withdrew his support of first motion and seconded the second motion. Carried.

Motion Hedman, support Kureth, to add Nickerson & Nickerson to our list of applicants for liquor license. Carried.

Mr. Berry & Mr. Buttigieg of Land Mark restaurant presented their plans for their restaurant and asked for liquor license, and stated they would come back before the Board after they have applied to the Liquor Control Comm.

Attorney Axe arrived. The Recreation Commission by-laws were discussed. It was cleared that the Commission was an appointed and not elected commission by our Township Recreation Commission Act. The Commission is advisory only. Motion Kureth, support Cullin, to table for further study and review. Carried 5 to 1.

Motion Cullin, support Kuchta, to adopt the lease of approximately 20 acres of recreation property on Beck Rd. at McBride from Ford Motor Co. as presented. Carried.

Motion Kureth, support Hedman, to approve the agreement for conveyance of real property, drain improvements and escrow on the Lake Pointe Apts. at Haggerty & I-94. Carried. Title of property to be checked at the time of execution of agreement.

Motion Cullin, support Kuchta, to refer to the Township Attorney for review the request for a 90' sewer extension on Sheldon Rd. to service homes Van Buren Schools are building. Carried.

Motion Kuchta, support Hedman, to have the Township Attorney check and bring back to the Sept. 10 board meeting whether the Township has the right to levy taxes for rubbish collection and if so to prepare the wording of the question to put on the November ballot. The proposed levy would be 42 mill. Carried.

Motion Cullin, support Kuchta, to refer the offer from General Motors to lease property for recreation purposes to the Township Attorney for review. Carried.

Motion Cullin, support Kureth, to refer the request from Detroit Edison to extend their rental agreement of the Detroit Edison Training Field to the Township Attorney. Carried.

Motion Kureth, support Hedman, to authorize the Supervisor to review the bids for a water department vehicle. The Supervisor stated he would be on vacation. Kureth withdrew his motion and Hedman withdrew his support. Kureth then motioned, and Hedman supported, to refer the bids to the Water Dept. Carried. The bids were: Elden Chevrolet $3,038.00 for a 1974 Nova 2 door. Atchinson Ford - $2,176.50 for a 1974 Maverick and $3,484.36 for a 1975 Ford 1/2 T. pick-up.

Supervisor Gollwitzer stated that a letter is coming from Huron Valley Steel requesting permission to build a pump house on township lake property. Water is to be used for irrigation purposes. Motion Kureth, support Kuchta, to refer the request to the Township attorney for review. Carried.

Motion Blend, support Hedman, to accept the department reports as presented. Carried.

Motion Hedman, support Blend, to accept the Fire Commissioners request and make available funds of $90.00 for a fire fighters 18 hour course and books at $4.00 each and extend this to both fire departments. Carried.

Mr. Blend commended the fire department for a job well done at his house fire.

Motion Blend, support Kureth, to approve the voucher lists for payment as presented. Carried.

Mrs. Cathy Howard from the audience asked who receives the fine monies for Ordinance violations. It was explained if it was for Township ordinance violations the Township gets the money.

Motion Hedman, support Domen, to adjourn. Meeting adjourned at 9:20 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,
PATRICIA CULLIN, CLERK
Van Buren Township

How to buy a house.
 Part 4
 It does take money

When it comes down to the nitty gritty, mortgages are as different as cabbages and cucumbers. For instance, interest rates on the same amount of money can vary drastically. So shop around, and consult your Realtor.

The three basic kinds of mortgages are VA, FHA and Conventional. In most cases the VA is the best because of no down payment and usually the lowest interest rates. Your Realtor can tell you if you qualify. The FHA mortgage is under certain restrictions, but any way you can apply. Try for it - low interest rates here too. The conventional is any non-governmental loan and is available almost anywhere from a bank to old Aunt Maude.

It usually carries high interest rates though. Don't forget to ask about "discount points." They are, in effect, interest in advance in return for a lower interest rate on the loan.

Also find out about mortgage insurance, which is usually required, and any prepaid items. The point is ask and ask.

Over the past few weeks we've given you some pointers on house buying, but even if you don't come to us, don't let anything go by if you don't understand.

If you want to do yourself a favor though, consult a professional Realtor, like Jimmie Lewis. He'll stretch your dollars while you get ready to move.
